

New Year Around the World

New Year

Name: _____

Date: _____

Read the text and complete the true or false exercise.

New Year is celebrated in many ways. In some cultures, people eat twelve grapes at midnight, one for each stroke of the clock. Elsewhere, families clean their homes thoroughly in order to sweep away bad luck. Fireworks are popular in big cities, whereas smaller communities might light bonfires. Despite these differences, almost everyone hopes the coming year will bring happiness.
