

Birthday Customs Around the World

Birthdays

Name: _____

Date: _____

Read the text and complete the table with the information.

Birthday customs vary considerably. In some countries, the person celebrating is expected to pay for the party, which strikes many visitors as surprising. Elsewhere, friends playfully pull the person's ears, once for each year of age. A few cultures serve long noodles, symbolising a long life, while others bake a cake containing a hidden coin for good fortune.

Custom	Meaning or purpose
The host pays for the party
Friends pull the ears
Long noodles
Cake with a hidden coin

Birthday Customs Around the World

Teacher's copy · C1

Table

- 1. Surprising to visitors
- 2. Once for each year of age
- 3. A long life
- 4. Good fortune