Four tests with a map, timeline, and practical activities – with an answer key for the leader

This workbook is designed for use in the classroom, in catechesis, in a parish group, or at home. Each of the four tests consists of a map with numbered points, six questions, a timeline to put in order, and three practical activities. The student receives a student sheet, and the leader uses the key with answers and grading criteria. The test can be completed individually or in pairs, and discussed together afterward. We encourage you to return to the atlas and look for confirmation of the answers in the biblical texts.

How to Keep Going

Finishing the four tests does not mean the end of learning. Return to the places that gave you difficulty and compare your answers with the key. Note that the map helps us understand Scripture, but it is the encounter with the text that leads to wisdom. Let this workbook be an occasion for conversation at home, in the classroom, or in the community, and let every conclusion you write down become a step toward knowing the Bible better.
