ction 1 — Valentine's Day & Romantic Evenings

sual, deeply aromatic candles crafted to set the mood. Rose petals, chocolate and bubbling champagne — romance you can taste.

Red Velvet & Rose

SWEET

A striking crimson candle with the subtle floral sweetness of rosewater layered over rich cocoa — the edible centerpiece for a candlelit dinner for two.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp coconut oil, refined
- 1 Tbsp unsweetened cocoa powder
- 1 tsp rosewater (food-grade)
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- Red gel food coloring (2–3 drops)
- Edible wick (breadstick or pretzel rod, trimmed to 2″)
- 1 tsp dried edible rose petals, finely crushed
- Pinch of fine sea salt

STEPS

1. Melt white chocolate chips and coconut oil in a double boiler over low heat, stirring constantly until silky smooth. Remove from heat.
2. Sift in the cocoa powder and whisk until fully incorporated. The mixture will turn a warm brown—this is the base before coloring.
3. Add rosewater, vanilla extract, and a pinch of sea salt. Stir gently to combine.
4. Add red gel food coloring one drop at a time, stirring after each addition, until you reach a deep red-velvet hue.
5. Pour the mixture into a silicone candle mold, filling to about 80% capacity. Tap the mold gently on the counter to release air bubbles.
6. Insert the edible wick into the center while the mixture is still liquid. Hold it upright for 10 seconds until it stands on its own.
7. Refrigerate for at least 90 minutes, until completely firm to the touch.
8. Unmold carefully. Sprinkle crushed rose petals onto the top surface, pressing lightly so they adhere.
9. Let the candle sit at room temperature for 10 minutes before serving to allow the flavors to bloom.

> Serving Tip: Place on a small mirror or marble coaster with a scatter of fresh rose petals around the base. Pair with a dry rosé or sparkling water infused with rosewater.

Dark Chocolate & Champagne

SWEET

Bittersweet dark chocolate infused with real champagne reduction — a sophisticated candle that tastes as indulgent as the evening it celebrates.

INGREDIENTS

- 6 oz dark chocolate (70% cacao), finely chopped
- 2 Tbsp heavy cream
- 1 Tbsp unsalted butter
- ¼ cup champagne or dry sparkling wine
- 1 tsp honey
- ⅛ tsp flaky sea salt (Maldon or similar)
- Edible wick (chocolate-coated pretzel rod, trimmed to 2″)
- Gold luster dust for finishing (food-grade)

STEPS

1. In a small saucepan, bring champagne to a gentle simmer over medium-low heat. Reduce by half (about 2 Tbsp remaining), roughly 5–7 minutes. Set aside to cool slightly.
2. Melt dark chocolate and butter in a double boiler, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat.
3. Warm the heavy cream for 20 seconds in the microwave (just lukewarm, not hot). Stir into the melted chocolate in three additions, mixing thoroughly after each.
4. Add the champagne reduction and honey. Fold gently until the mixture has a uniform glossy sheen.
5. Pour into a lightly greased candle mold. Tap firmly on the counter three times to settle the mixture and release any trapped air.
6. Insert the edible wick straight down into the center. Adjust so it stands perfectly vertical.
7. Chill in the refrigerator for 2 hours, or until solid throughout.
8. Unmold onto parchment paper. Use a dry pastry brush to apply a thin dusting of gold luster dust over the top and upper edges.
9. Sprinkle flaky sea salt over the top in a small cluster for texture contrast.

> Serving Tip: Serve alongside a glass of the same champagne used in the recipe. Place on a dark slate board for maximum visual drama.

Strawberry & Cream

SWEET

Layers of freeze-dried strawberry and vanilla cream create a pink-and-white candle that is as beautiful as it is delicious — pure romance on a plate.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 3 Tbsp coconut cream (thick part only)
- ½ cup freeze-dried strawberries, finely crushed to powder
- 1 tsp pure vanilla extract
- ½ tsp strawberry extract (optional, for intensity)
- Pink gel food coloring (1–2 drops, optional)
- Edible wick (white chocolate–dipped pretzel rod, 2″)
- 2 Tbsp heavy cream, whipped to stiff peaks
- 1 tsp powdered sugar

STEPS

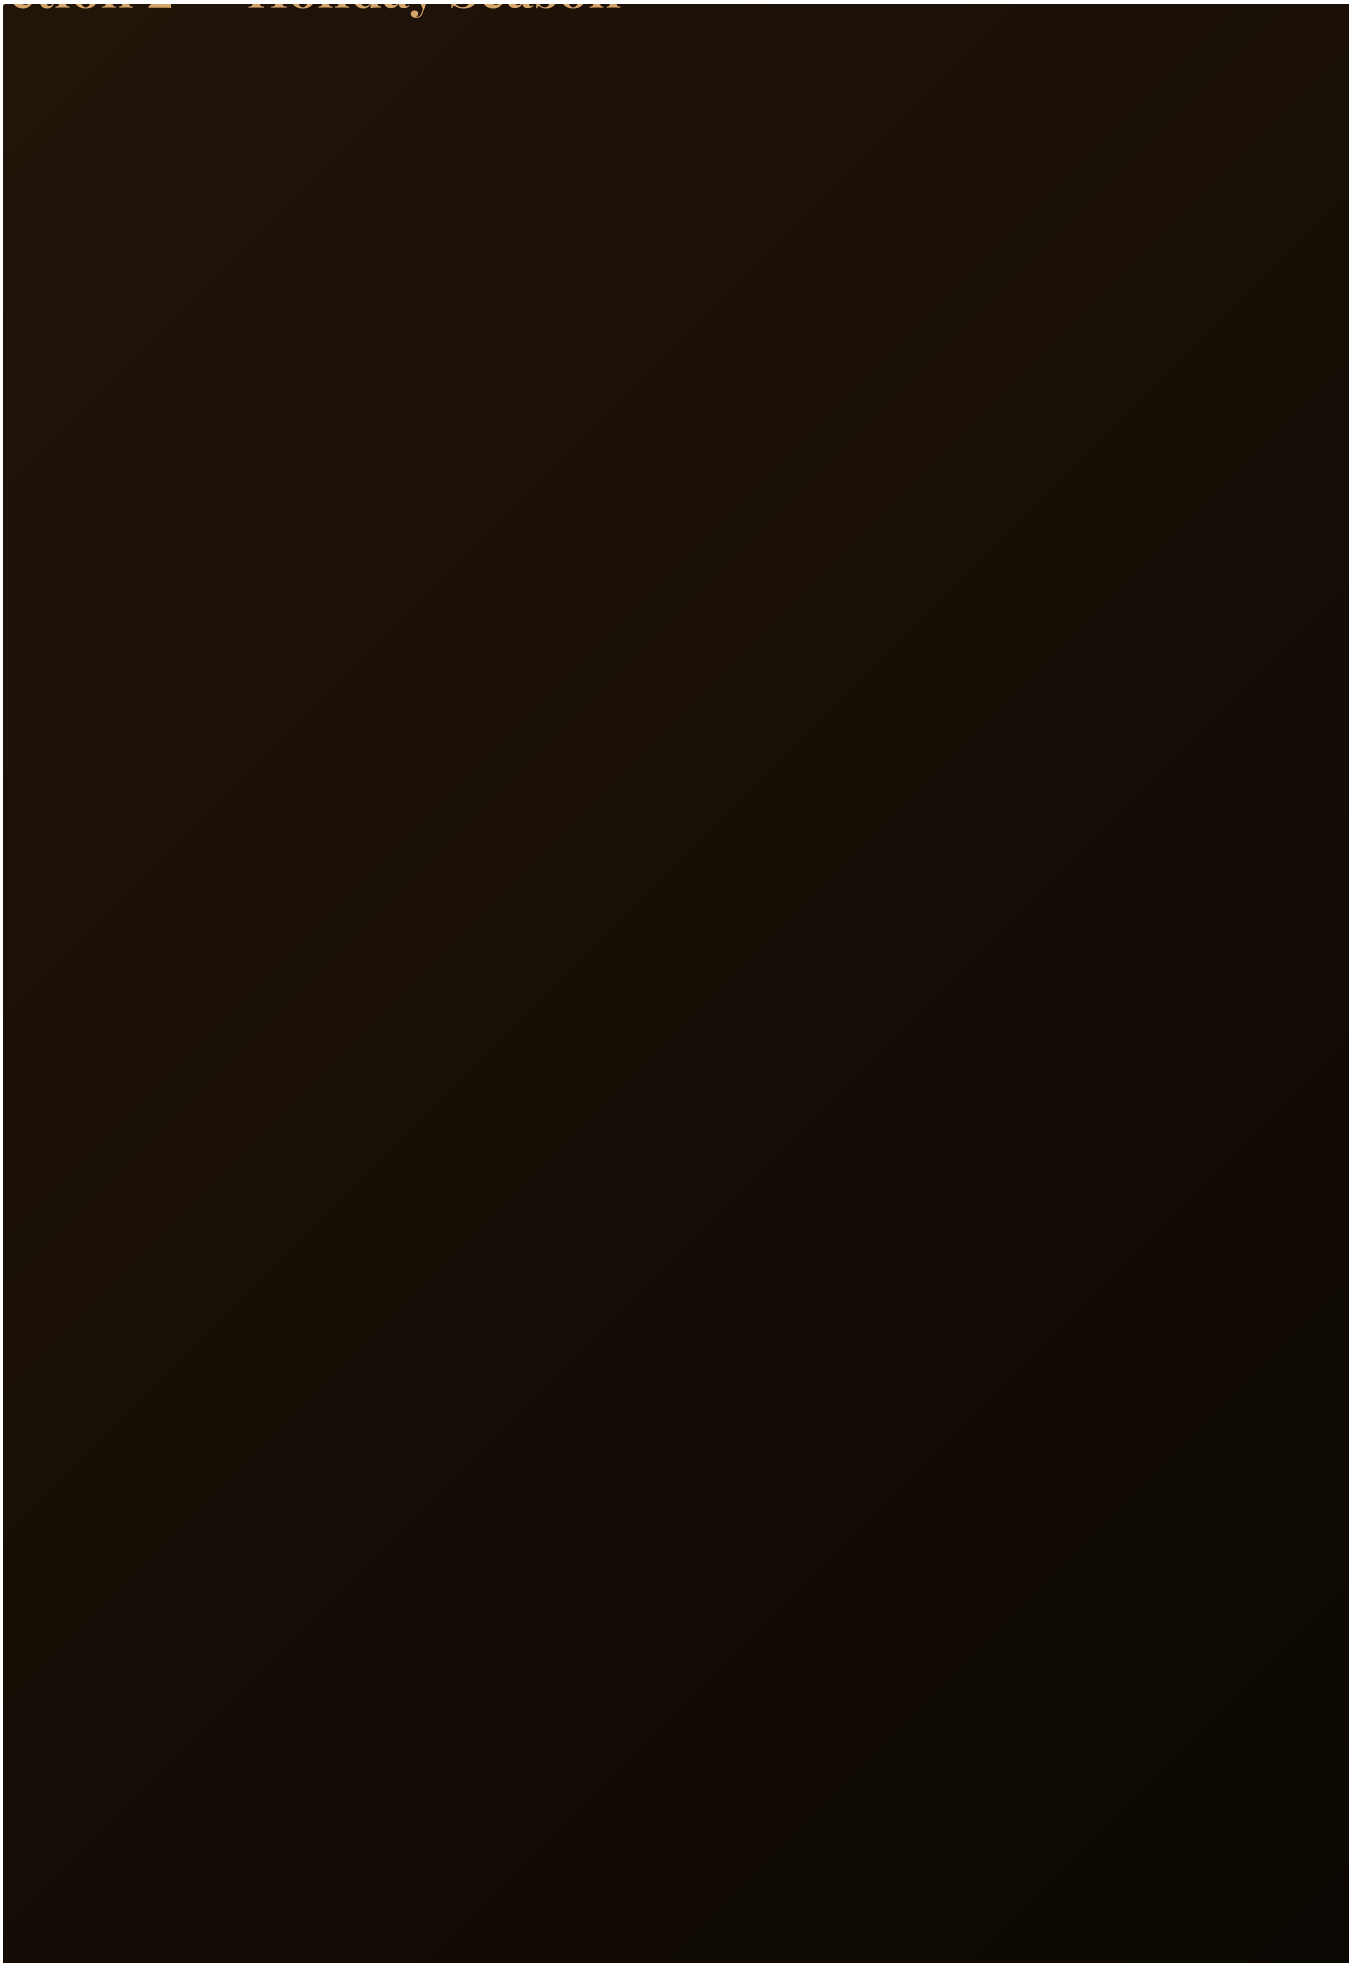

1. Melt white chocolate and coconut cream together in a double boiler over low heat. Stir until completely smooth.
2. Divide the melted mixture evenly into two bowls.
3. To the first bowl, add the crushed freeze-dried strawberry powder and strawberry extract. Stir well. Add one drop of pink food coloring if a deeper pink is desired.
4. To the second bowl, add vanilla extract only. This will remain the cream-colored layer.
5. Pour the strawberry mixture into your candle mold, filling halfway. Refrigerate for 20 minutes until it begins to set but is still slightly tacky on top.
6. Gently pour the vanilla layer over the strawberry layer. Insert the edible wick through both layers into the center.
7. Refrigerate for at least 2 hours until fully solid.
8. Unmold carefully. Whip the heavy cream with powdered sugar to stiff peaks. Pipe a small rosette of whipped cream at the base of the wick.
9. Garnish the top with a small piece of freeze-dried strawberry for color.

> Serving Tip: Place on a white porcelain saucer and surround with fresh strawberry halves. Best enjoyed within 1 hour of adding the whipped cream topping.

Romantic Evening Styling Ideas

Group two or three of these candles on a wooden board with dark grapes, figs and thin chocolate wafers. Dim the lights and let the candles serve as both table decor and dessert course. Your guests will never forget it.

ction 2 — Holiday Season

m spices, citrus zest and buttery richness — edible candles that ture the spirit of the holidays in every bite.

Gingerbread Spice

SWEET

A warmly spiced candle that smells and tastes like a freshly baked gingerbread house — ground ginger, cinnamon, cloves and dark molasses in a smooth, melt-in-your-mouth base.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup milk chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp coconut oil, refined
- 1 Tbsp blackstrap molasses
- 1 tsp ground ginger
- ½ tsp ground cinnamon
- ¼ tsp ground cloves
- ¼ tsp ground nutmeg
- Pinch of black pepper
- 1 Tbsp brown sugar, packed
- Edible wick (cinnamon stick, trimmed to 2″)
- White chocolate drizzle for decorating

STEPS

1. Melt milk chocolate chips and coconut oil together in a double boiler until completely smooth.
2. Remove from heat. Add the molasses and brown sugar, stirring vigorously until the sugar dissolves into the warm chocolate.
3. Add ground ginger, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, and black pepper. Whisk until the spices are evenly distributed throughout—no clumps should remain.
4. Pour the spiced mixture into your candle mold. Tap gently on the counter to release air bubbles.
5. Press the cinnamon-stick wick into the center. The cinnamon stick doubles as a natural aromatic element.
6. Refrigerate for at least 2 hours until completely firm.
7. Unmold onto a clean surface. Melt 2 Tbsp white chocolate and drizzle in thin lines across the top and sides using a fork.
8. Allow the white chocolate drizzle to set for 10 minutes at room temperature before moving the candle to its serving plate.

> Serving Tip: Place on a small wooden cutting board next to a mug of hot apple cider. The cinnamon-stick wick is edible too — it adds a lovely crunch.

Cranberry & Orange

SWEET

Tart cranberry and bright citrus zest in a white-chocolate shell — a festive candle that brings the taste of winter harvest to your holiday table.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp coconut oil, refined
- ¼ cup dried cranberries, finely minced
- Zest of 1 large navel orange
- 1 Tbsp fresh orange juice
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- 2 drops orange gel food coloring (optional)
- Edible wick (candied orange peel strip, stiffened, 2″)
- Whole dried cranberries for garnish (5–6)

STEPS

1. Melt white chocolate and coconut oil in a double boiler over low heat, stirring until smooth.
2. Remove from heat. Stir in the orange zest, orange juice, and vanilla extract. The citrus oils will perfume the mixture immediately.
3. Fold in the finely minced dried cranberries until evenly distributed.
4. If you want a light orange tint, add the gel food coloring now and stir until uniform.
5. Pour the mixture into a candle mold. Tap three times on the counter to settle the contents.
6. Insert the candied orange-peel wick into the center, pressing down gently so it anchors in the mixture.
7. Press 5–6 whole dried cranberries into the top surface in a decorative ring around the wick.
8. Refrigerate for 90 minutes, until the candle is solid and pulls away slightly from the mold edges.
9. Unmold and let rest at room temperature for 5 minutes before placing on the serving dish.

> Serving Tip: Set on a bed of fresh rosemary sprigs on a gold-rimmed plate. The herbal aroma of rosemary and the citrus of the candle create a beautiful sensory pairing.

Eggnog Butter

SWEET

Rich, buttery and warmly spiced with nutmeg — this candle tastes exactly like a cup of homemade eggnog in solid, melt-on-your-tongue form.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp unsalted butter, softened
- 1 Tbsp heavy cream
- 1 tsp rum extract (or ½ tsp real dark rum)
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- ½ tsp freshly grated nutmeg, plus extra for garnish
- ¼ tsp ground cinnamon
- 1 Tbsp powdered sugar
- Yellow gel food coloring (1 drop, for a pale eggnog hue)
- Edible wick (vanilla-cookie stick or white pretzel rod, 2″)

STEPS

1. Melt white chocolate chips in a double boiler, stirring until completely smooth. Remove from heat.
2. Add the softened butter and stir until melted into the chocolate. The mixture should be glossy and thick.
3. Warm the heavy cream slightly (10 seconds in the microwave) and stir it in, followed by the rum extract and vanilla extract.
4. Sift in the powdered sugar, nutmeg, and cinnamon. Whisk thoroughly until no dry specks remain.
5. Add one drop of yellow food coloring and stir to create a pale, creamy eggnog color.
6. Pour the mixture into a candle mold. Tap gently to release air pockets.
7. Insert the edible wick into the center. Make sure it stands upright and is embedded at least halfway down.
8. Refrigerate for 2 hours until solid.
9. Unmold and grate a light dusting of fresh nutmeg over the top surface for the finishing touch.

> Serving Tip: Serve on a vintage saucer next to a small glass of actual eggnog. The flavor pairing is remarkable — guests can take a bite of the candle and a sip in alternation.

Holiday Table Arrangement

Create a centerpiece by placing all three holiday candles on a long wooden board lined with evergreen sprigs, pine cones and cinnamon sticks. Add a few real tea-light candles between them for warm, flickering light. Label each edible candle with a small kraft-paper tag so guests know they are meant to be eaten.

ction 3 — Birthday Celebrations

rful, playful and irresistibly fun — edible candles that turn any nday table into a spectacle of flavor and joy.

Funfetti Vanilla

SWEET

A cheerful candle packed with rainbow sprinkles in a sweet vanilla base — the essence of birthday cake in candle form. Kids and adults alike will love it.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp coconut oil, refined
- 1½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- ¼ tsp almond extract
- 3 Tbsp rainbow jimmies (sprinkles), divided
- 1 Tbsp powdered sugar
- Edible wick (pocky stick or long cookie stick, 2″)
- Edible glitter for top (optional)

STEPS

1. Melt white chocolate chips and coconut oil together in a double boiler, stirring continuously until smooth.
2. Remove from heat. Stir in the vanilla extract, almond extract, and powdered sugar until fully combined.
3. Let the mixture cool for 3–4 minutes, stirring occasionally, until it thickens slightly. This prevents the sprinkles from sinking to the bottom.
4. Fold in 2 Tbsp of the rainbow sprinkles quickly but gently — overmixing will cause the colors to bleed.
5. Pour into a candle mold. Immediately insert the edible wick into the center.
6. Scatter the remaining 1 Tbsp of sprinkles over the top surface, pressing them lightly into the still-soft chocolate.
7. Refrigerate for at least 90 minutes until completely solid.
8. Unmold carefully. If desired, brush the top with a light coat of edible glitter for extra sparkle.

> Serving Tip: Place directly on top of a frosted birthday cake as the candle. Let the birthday person eat the candle instead of blowing it out — it makes for an unforgettable moment and great photos.

Salted Caramel Birthday

SWEET

Rich, golden caramel with a flaky-salt finish — a more sophisticated birthday candle for the adult who loves sweet-and-salty combinations.

INGREDIENTS

- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 3 Tbsp unsalted butter, cut into small cubes
- 3 Tbsp heavy cream, at room temperature
- ¾ cup milk chocolate chips
- 1 Tbsp coconut oil
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- ¾ tsp flaky sea salt (Maldon), divided
- Edible wick (caramel-coated pretzel rod, 2″)
- Gold sugar pearls for decorating (optional)

STEPS

1. Make the caramel: heat granulated sugar in a heavy-bottomed saucepan over medium heat. Stir constantly with a silicone spatula as it melts. Continue until it turns a deep amber color, about 4–5 minutes.
2. Remove the pan from heat immediately. Add the butter cubes all at once — the mixture will bubble vigorously. Stir until the butter is fully melted and incorporated.
3. Slowly pour in the heavy cream while stirring. It will bubble again. Stir until you have a smooth, glossy caramel. Set aside.
4. In a separate double boiler, melt the milk chocolate chips and coconut oil together until smooth.
5. Combine the caramel with the melted chocolate. Add vanilla extract and ½ tsp of the flaky salt. Stir until uniform.
6. Pour the mixture into your candle mold. Tap on the counter to settle.
7. Insert the caramel pretzel wick into the center while the mixture is still pourable.
8. Refrigerate for 2–3 hours (caramel mixtures take longer to fully firm up).
9. Unmold. Sprinkle the remaining ¼ tsp flaky salt and a few gold sugar pearls on top.

> Serving Tip: Serve on a small black slate with a drizzle of extra caramel sauce around the base. A scoop of vanilla ice cream on the side makes this an instant dessert course.

Rainbow Swirl

SWEET

A show-stopping multi-colored candle with swirls of fruity flavors — each bite delivers a different taste. The ultimate visual and culinary party trick.

INGREDIENTS

- 2 cups white chocolate chips, divided into 4 equal portions (½ cup each)
- 4 Tbsp coconut oil, divided (1 Tbsp per portion)
- Gel food coloring: red, yellow, green, blue (1–2 drops each)
- Flavor extracts: strawberry, lemon, lime, blueberry (¼ tsp each)
- Edible wick (rainbow candy stick or white pretzel rod, 2″)
- Edible glitter for finishing

STEPS

1. Melt each ½-cup portion of white chocolate with 1 Tbsp coconut oil in a small bowl in the microwave (20-second intervals, stirring between). You will have four separate bowls of melted white chocolate.
2. Color and flavor each bowl: red with strawberry extract, yellow with lemon extract, green with lime extract, blue with blueberry extract. Stir each until uniform.
3. Working quickly, pour the first color (red) into the candle mold, filling about one quarter. Tilt the mold slightly so the layer is uneven — this creates the swirl effect.
4. Immediately pour the second color (yellow) and tilt the mold in the opposite direction.
5. Repeat with green and blue, tilting in alternating directions each time.
6. Use a toothpick or thin skewer to drag through all the layers in a zigzag pattern, creating visible swirls.
7. Insert the edible wick into the center of the swirled mixture while it is still liquid.
8. Refrigerate for 2 hours until completely solid. Do not disturb the mold during this time.
9. Unmold carefully. Dust with edible glitter for a celebratory sparkle.

> Serving Tip: Place on a white plate to let the colors pop. Each person at the table can guess the flavors as they eat — turn it into a tasting game at the birthday party.

Birthday Pro Tip

Make your edible candles a day ahead and store in an airtight container in the fridge. Bring to room temperature 10 minutes before the party starts. They hold up beautifully for up to 48 hours when refrigerated.

ction 4 — Dinner Party Showstoppers

ory, complex and utterly unexpected — these edible candles are versation starters designed to impress even the most discerning tes at your dinner table.

Truffle & Parmesan

SAVORY

The earthy depth of black truffle meets aged Parmigiano-Reggiano in a savory candle that belongs on a charcuterie board. Luxurious, umami-rich and absolutely unforgettable.

INGREDIENTS

- 4 oz cocoa butter, finely chopped
- 2 Tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- ¼ cup Parmigiano-Reggiano, very finely grated (microplane)
- 1 tsp black truffle oil (real truffle, not synthetic)
- ½ tsp garlic powder
- ¼ tsp freshly cracked black pepper
- ¼ tsp fine sea salt
- Edible wick (grissini breadstick, trimmed to 2")
- Shaved Parmesan curls for garnish (3–4 thin shavings)

STEPS

1. Melt cocoa butter in a double boiler over low heat, stirring until fully liquid and clear. Remove from heat.
2. Add the olive oil and truffle oil. Stir gently to combine — the truffle aroma will be immediately apparent.
3. Sprinkle in the finely grated Parmesan, garlic powder, black pepper, and sea salt. Whisk until the cheese is suspended evenly throughout the mixture.
4. Let the mixture cool for 2–3 minutes, stirring occasionally, until it begins to thicken slightly. This prevents the cheese from settling to the bottom.
5. Pour into a candle mold. Insert the grissini wick into the center, pressing down until it is firmly anchored.
6. Refrigerate for at least 2 hours until completely solid.
7. Unmold onto parchment paper. Arrange 3–4 thin Parmesan shavings on top, leaning them against the wick for a rustic presentation.
8. Allow the candle to come to room temperature for 5 minutes before serving so the truffle flavor is at its peak.

> Serving Tip: Place on a wooden board alongside cured meats, fig jam, walnuts and crusty bread. Guests can slice off pieces and eat them with the accompaniments, like a fine cheese course.

Smoked Paprika & Manchego

SAVORY

Inspired by Spanish tapas — smoky pimentón and nutty Manchego cheese create a candle with deep, warm complexity that pairs beautifully with red wine.

INGREDIENTS

- 4 oz cocoa butter, finely chopped
- 2 Tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- ¼ cup Manchego cheese, finely grated
- 1½ tsp smoked paprika (pimentón de la Vera)
- ¼ tsp cayenne pepper
- ½ tsp sweet paprika
- ¼ tsp fine sea salt
- ½ tsp honey
- Edible wick (rosemary sprig, stiff woody stem, trimmed to 2″)
- Smoked paprika for dusting

STEPS

1. Melt cocoa butter in a double boiler, stirring until completely liquid. Remove from heat.
2. Add the olive oil and honey. Stir until the honey dissolves completely into the warm mixture.
3. Add smoked paprika, sweet paprika, cayenne, and salt. Whisk thoroughly to distribute the spices evenly — the mixture will turn a beautiful deep orange-red.
4. Fold in the grated Manchego cheese. Stir for 30 seconds to ensure even distribution.
5. Let cool for 2 minutes, stirring occasionally, until slightly thickened.
6. Pour into a candle mold. Insert the rosemary-sprig wick into the center — the woody stem will stand upright naturally.
7. Refrigerate for 2 hours until firm throughout.
8. Unmold onto a serving surface. Dust the top lightly with additional smoked paprika using a fine-mesh sieve.

> Serving Tip: Serve on a terracotta plate with Marcona almonds, quince paste and sliced chorizo. Pour a bold Tempranillo or Rioja to complete the Spanish theme.

Fig & Balsamic Goat Cheese

SAVORY

Sweet dried figs, tangy goat cheese and a drizzle of balsamic reduction — this candle captures the elegance of a Tuscan appetizer in every single bite.

INGREDIENTS

- 4 oz cocoa butter, finely chopped
- 1 Tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- 2 oz fresh goat cheese (chèvre), crumbled
- 3 dried figs, very finely diced (about 3 Tbsp)
- 1 Tbsp balsamic vinegar (aged, if possible)
- 1 tsp honey
- ¼ tsp dried thyme
- ¼ tsp fine sea salt
- Edible wick (grissini or breadstick, 2″)
- Balsamic reduction (store-bought or homemade) for drizzle
- 1 small dried fig, halved, for garnish

STEPS

1. Melt cocoa butter in a double boiler over low heat, stirring until clear and liquid. Remove from heat.
2. Add olive oil, honey, balsamic vinegar, dried thyme, and sea salt. Stir until well combined.
3. Let the mixture cool for 3–4 minutes until it thickens to the consistency of warm honey. This is critical —if too hot, the goat cheese will melt unevenly.
4. Fold in the crumbled goat cheese and diced figs. Stir gently to distribute without fully melting the cheese — you want small pockets of chèvre throughout.
5. Pour into a candle mold. Insert the edible wick into the center.
6. Press the halved dried fig onto the top surface as a garnish.
7. Refrigerate for 2½ hours until firm (the goat cheese makes this mixture softer, so it needs extra time).
8. Unmold carefully. Drizzle balsamic reduction in a thin zigzag pattern across the top just before serving.

> Serving Tip: Place on a marble board with honey, walnuts and water crackers. This candle is best served at cool room temperature — not straight from the fridge — so the goat cheese softens just enough.

Temperature Note for Savory Candles

Savory candles made with cocoa butter have a lower melting point than chocolate-based ones. Keep them refrigerated until 10 minutes before serving, and avoid warm rooms (above 76°F / 24°C). In hot weather, serve on a chilled plate or over crushed ice in a shallow dish.

ction 5 — Baby Showers & Brunches

t, bright and effortlessly charming — delicate flavors perfect for latening gatherings, afternoon celebrations and everything in between.

Lemon Poppy Seed

SWEET

Sunshine in candle form — fresh lemon zest, a hint of honey and the gentle crunch of poppy seeds in a silky white-chocolate base. Bright, clean and universally loved.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp coconut oil, refined
- Zest of 2 lemons (about 2 tsp)
- 1 Tbsp fresh lemon juice
- 1 tsp honey
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- 1½ Tbsp poppy seeds
- Yellow gel food coloring (1 drop, for pale yellow)
- Edible wick (lemon-flavored pocky or cookie stick, 2″)

STEPS

1. Melt white chocolate and coconut oil together in a double boiler until smooth. Remove from heat.
2. Add lemon zest, lemon juice, honey, and vanilla extract. Stir well — the lemon juice may cause the mixture to thicken slightly, which is normal.
3. Add one drop of yellow food coloring for a soft, pastel-lemon hue. Stir until uniform.
4. Let the mixture cool for 2–3 minutes, then fold in the poppy seeds so they remain suspended throughout rather than sinking.
5. Pour into a candle mold. Insert the edible wick into the center immediately.
6. Refrigerate for 90 minutes until completely firm.
7. Unmold gently. The poppy seeds should be visible throughout the candle, giving it a beautiful speckled appearance.

> Serving Tip: Serve on a pastel-colored saucer with a thin lemon wheel placed flat beside it. Pairs perfectly with chamomile tea or a mimosa at brunch.

Blueberry Lavender

SWEET

A soothing, aromatic candle that blends the sweetness of wild blueberries with the floral calm of culinary lavender — elegant enough for any shower or garden party.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp coconut oil, refined
- ¼ cup freeze-dried blueberries, crushed to a fine powder
- ½ tsp culinary lavender buds, finely ground (use a spice grinder)
- 1 tsp honey
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- Purple gel food coloring (1–2 drops)
- Edible wick (white chocolate pretzel rod, 2″)
- 3–4 whole dried lavender buds for garnish
- 3–4 whole freeze-dried blueberries for garnish

STEPS

1. Melt white chocolate and coconut oil in a double boiler until smooth. Remove from heat.
2. Add the blueberry powder and ground lavender. Stir well — the mixture will turn a natural purple-blue. Add honey and vanilla extract.
3. If the natural color is not deep enough, add 1–2 drops of purple gel food coloring and stir until even.
4. Pour into a candle mold. Tap on the counter to release bubbles.
5. Insert the edible wick into the center while the mixture is still liquid.
6. Arrange a few whole dried lavender buds and freeze-dried blueberries on the top surface, pressing gently so they adhere.
7. Refrigerate for at least 90 minutes.
8. Unmold carefully. The floral garnish on top should remain in place — if any fall off, press them back on with a tiny dab of melted white chocolate.

> Serving Tip: Place on a linen napkin with a sprig of fresh lavender beside it. For a baby shower, display several in a row down the center of the table with small name cards at each setting.

Maple Pecan

SWEET

Pure maple syrup and toasted pecans in a buttery base — the warmth and comfort of a weekend brunch captured in an edible candle that tastes like autumn morning.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 Tbsp unsalted butter
- 2 Tbsp pure maple syrup (Grade A Dark or Amber)
- ¼ cup pecans, toasted and finely chopped, plus 4–5 pecan halves for garnish
- ½ tsp pure vanilla extract
- ¼ tsp ground cinnamon
- Pinch of fine sea salt
- Edible wick (cinnamon stick or pretzel rod, 2″)

STEPS

1. Toast the chopped pecans in a dry skillet over medium heat for 3–4 minutes, stirring constantly, until fragrant and lightly golden. Remove from heat and set aside.
2. Melt white chocolate and butter together in a double boiler until smooth. Remove from heat.
3. Add maple syrup, vanilla extract, cinnamon, and sea salt. Stir until fully incorporated — the maple aroma should be pronounced.
4. Let the mixture cool for 2–3 minutes until slightly thickened, then fold in the toasted chopped pecans.
5. Pour into a candle mold. Insert the edible wick into the center.
6. Arrange 4–5 toasted pecan halves on top in a decorative pattern around the wick.
7. Refrigerate for 2 hours until completely firm.
8. Unmold gently. The pecan halves on top should create an attractive crown effect.

> Serving Tip: Drizzle a thin thread of warm maple syrup over the top just before serving. Pair with strong coffee, a stack of pancakes, or fresh waffles for the ultimate brunch centerpiece.

Brunch Display Idea

Arrange the three brunch candles on a tiered cake stand (one per tier) with fresh berries, mint leaves and edible flowers scattered around each level. Add a small chalkboard sign that reads “Eat the Candles!” so guests know these are not just for show.

ction 6 — Gift-Giving Ideas

edible candles are unforgettable gifts. This section shows you how ackage, theme and present them so every recipient feels like they ived something truly special.

Individual Packaging

A single edible candle, beautifully wrapped, makes a memorable gift for any occasion. Here is how to package one candle so it arrives in perfect condition and looks stunning when opened.

The Clear Box Method

Place the candle on a small square of food-safe tissue paper (gold or cream) inside a clear acetate box (3″×3″×4″). Tie the box with a satin ribbon and attach a kraft-paper tag with the flavor name and a “Best enjoyed within 5 days” note. The transparency lets the candle speak for itself.

The Mason Jar Wrap

Set the candle inside a small wide-mouth mason jar (4 oz) on a cushion of shredded parchment paper. Seal with a circle of fabric over the lid, secured by twine. Add a wax seal or sticker with the candle flavor. The jar is reusable, adding practical value to the gift.

The Parchment Pouch

Wrap the candle in a square of wax paper, then place it inside a small glassine bag. Fold the top, staple with a printed header card (flavor name, ingredient list, and storage instructions), and you have an elegant, bakery-style presentation.

Temperature Protection

Always include an insulated liner or ice pack if shipping or if the gift will sit in a warm environment. A simple insulated mailer bag (available at craft stores) keeps the candle solid for up to 4 hours in moderate weather. Include a note: “Refrigerate upon opening.”

Themed Gift Sets

Grouping two or three candles by theme creates a gift that feels curated and intentional. Below are six ready-made sets you can assemble using the recipes in this bonus guide and the main collection.

The Date Night Set

- Red Velvet & Rose
- Dark Chocolate & Champagne
- Strawberry & Cream

Package in a flat gift box lined with red tissue. Add a small card that reads "For two."

The Holiday Host Set

- Gingerbread Spice
- Cranberry & Orange
- Eggnog Butter

Wrap in a festive cellophane bag with a plaid ribbon. Perfect hostess gift for Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner.

The Charcuterie Lover Set

- Truffle & Parmesan
- Smoked Paprika & Manchego
- Fig & Balsamic Goat Cheese

Place on a mini wooden board wrapped in brown butcher paper. Tie with kitchen twine and a rosemary sprig.

The New Mom Set

- Lemon Poppy Seed
- Blueberry Lavender
- Maple Pecan

Arrange in a pastel keepsake box with lavender sachets. Include a "You deserve something sweet" card.

The Birthday Party Pack

- Funfetti Vanilla
- Salted Caramel Birthday
- Rainbow Swirl

Nestle in colorful confetti inside a bright gift bag. Add a party horn and a "Make a wish" tag.

The "Build Your Own" Box

- Any 3 candles of the recipient's choice
- Printed flavor menu card
- Storage instructions leaflet

Give the menu card first and let them pick. Deliver the candles the next day — freshly made to order.

Presentation & Display Tips

How you display your edible candles matters as much as how they taste. These tips ensure your creations look their absolute best, whether for a gift, a dinner party or a photo.

Surface Selection

Dark candles (chocolate, truffle, fig) look best on white marble, pale ceramic or light wood. Light candles (vanilla, lemon, cream) pop against dark slate, black stone or deep wood grain. Always use a flat, food-safe surface — never put edible candles directly on fabric.

Height Variation

Display multiple candles at varying heights to create visual interest. Use small stacked books (covered with linen), upturned ramekins or wooden blocks of different sizes. A three-level display with your tallest candle in the center draws the eye naturally.

Garnish Discipline

Less is more. Each candle should have no more than two garnish elements — a dusting (salt, cocoa, glitter) plus one focal piece (a pecan half, a fig, a rose petal). Overcrowding the top makes the candle look cluttered rather than curated.

Lighting Matters

For photos and presentation, warm side lighting (from a lamp or window) highlights the texture and color of your candles far better than overhead fluorescent lighting. If you are photographing for social media, place the candle near a window in the late afternoon for golden-hour glow.

Labeling & Flavor Cards

Every gifted candle should come with a small card that tells the recipient what they are about to enjoy. Here is what to include on each card.

- [ ] Candle flavor name (e.g., “Dark Chocolate & Champagne”)
- [ ] One-line description (e.g., “Bittersweet dark chocolate infused with real champagne reduction.”)
- [ ] Full ingredient list (essential for allergy awareness)
- [ ] Storage instructions (“Keep refrigerated. Enjoy within 5 days.”)
- [ ] Serving suggestion (“Best at room temperature. Let sit 10 min after removing from fridge.”)
- [ ] Sweet or Savory indicator (a small icon or text label)

Allergy Awareness

Always list common allergens clearly: dairy, nuts, soy (in some chocolates), wheat (in breadstick wicks). If making candles for a large group or event, prepare a master allergen chart that covers all the candles being served. This small step prevents big problems and shows your recipients that you care.

Storage & Shelf Life

Refrigerated (34–38°F / 1–3°C)

- Sweet candles: up to 7 days
- Savory candles: up to 5 days
- Candles with fresh cream: up to 3 days

Store in an airtight container with parchment paper between layers if stacking. Never store sweet and savory candles in the same container — flavors transfer.

Room Temperature

- Below 68°F / 20°C: up to 4 hours
- 68–76°F / 20–24°C: up to 2 hours
- Above 76°F / 24°C: serve immediately

If gifting and the recipient will not have immediate access to a fridge, include an insulated bag and a small ice pack to maintain temperature during transit.
