How to Use This Planner

Your guide to an awesome, organized life

Welcome to your very own planner! This book is here to help you keep track of your days, set goals, and celebrate everything you accomplish. Let's get started!

Hey Kids!

This planner belongs to YOU. There are no wrong answers and no mistakes—just write, draw, and check off boxes at your own pace. Use pencil so you can erase and try again. The more you use it, the better your days will feel!

How It Works

Print the pages you need. The Weekly Planner and Chore Chart are designed to be printed many times—one for each week!

Start each week by writing your tasks, chores, and goals.

Check off boxes and color stars as you finish things throughout the day.

At the end of each week, fill out the Weekly Reflection page to see how far you've come.

Each month, set new goals on your Monthly Goal Tracker page.

What's Inside

- ☐ Yearly Goals page to dream big
- ☐ Weekly Planner with morning & evening routines
- ☐ 12 Monthly Goal Trackers (one per month!)
- ☐ Habit Tracker to build great habits
- ☐ Reading Log to track your books
- ☐ Chore Chart for helping at home
- ☐ Reward Chart to earn stars
- ☐ Weekly Reflection for journaling

Tips for Parents

Sit with your child for the first week to help them fill in routines and goals. After that, encourage independence—let them check off tasks on their own. Praise effort, not perfection. Consider printing the Weekly Planner in batches of 4–5 copies so your child always has a fresh one ready. Laminating the Habit Tracker and Chore Chart lets kids use dry-erase markers and reuse them.

My Big Goals This Year

Dream big, plan ahead, and make it happen

Think about three big things you want to achieve this year. They can be about school, hobbies, friendships, or anything that matters to you. Write them below, then break each one into small steps.

My Habit Tracker

Build great habits one day at a time

Choose up to 5 habits you want to build. Write each one in the left column, then check off the box for every day you do it. Try to build a streak!

Habit	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30

How to Use This Tracker

Pick habits you want to do every day—like “Read for 15 minutes,” “Drink water,” “Practice piano,” or “Say something kind.” Write one habit per row, then draw an X or a ✓ in the box for each day you complete it. Try to fill the whole row!

6

My Reading Log

Track every book you read this year

> Every time you finish a book (or read part of one), add it here. Color in the stars to show how much you liked it. One star means “it was okay” and five stars means “I loved it!”

My Reward This Week:

8

My Reward Chart

Earn stars, collect rewards

Every time you do something great—finish your chores, help a friend, get a good grade, or try something new—color in a star. When you fill enough stars, you earn your reward!

My Star Collection

Color in one star each time you earn it

When I collect _____ stars, my reward is:

My Rules for Earning Stars

Write down the rules you and your parent agree on. For example: “1 star for finishing homework on time” or “2 stars for doing chores without being asked.”

Weekly Reflection

Look back, learn, and plan ahead

> At the end of each week, take a few minutes to think about how things went. There are no wrong answers—just be honest with yourself. Print a new copy each week!

THIS WEEK I LEARNED...

I'M PROUD OF...

SOMETHING THAT WAS HARD...

SOMEONE WHO HELPED ME...

NEXT WEEK I WANT TO...

Circle the face that matches how you felt most of the week

Next Step

You now have everything you need to plan amazing days, build great habits, and celebrate your wins. Print the Weekly Planner and Chore Chart as many times as you like—one for each week of the year!

Remember: the secret is not perfection—it's showing up every day and doing your best. You've got this!
