Classic Shea Body Butter

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Raw shea butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil (or any light liquid oil)	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets (or candelilla wax for a vegan version)	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp) — adds skin-feel and slows rancidity, it is not a preservative
Essential oil of your choice (optional)	15-20 drops

Method

- 1 Set up a double boiler: a heatproof bowl over a pot with 1-2 in (2-3 cm) of simmering water, bowl not touching the water.
- 2 Melt the shea butter, almond oil and beeswax together, stirring occasionally, until fully liquid and clear (about 5-8 min).
- 3 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 4 Let the mixture cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until it turns cloudy and starts to firm at the edges — this prevents the oils from separating later.
- 5 Whip with a hand or stand mixer on medium-high for 5-8 min, until light, pale and fluffy, like buttercream.
- 6 Add the essential oil in the last minute of whipping, if using.

7

Spoon into a clean, dry jar. Don't tap it down — the air you whipped in is what keeps it light.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- If it comes out grainy, it cooled too fast or unevenly — remelt gently and let it cool slower next time, stirring every few minutes.
- In a hot climate, add an extra 5 g of beeswax so it doesn't melt in the jar.

Whipped Mango Butter with Sweet Almond Oil & Lavender

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets (or candelilla wax for a vegan version)	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp) — slows rancidity, not a preservative
Lavender essential oil	25 drops

Method

- 1 Set up a double boiler: a heatproof bowl over a pot with 1-2 in (2-3 cm) of simmering water, bowl not touching the water.
- 2 Melt the mango butter, almond oil and beeswax together, stirring occasionally, until fully liquid and clear (5-8 min).
- 3 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 4 Let the mixture cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until cloudy and firm at the edges.
- 5 Whip with a hand or stand mixer on medium-high for 5-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 6 Add the lavender essential oil in the last minute of whipping.

7

Spoon into a clean, dry jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Mango butter is softer than shea at room temperature — if your kitchen runs warm, chill the bowl for 5 min before whipping.
- If it turns grainy, it cooled too fast; remelt gently and let it cool slower, stirring every few minutes.

Whipped Cocoa Butter with Jojoba Oil & Vanilla

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	110 g (3.9 oz)
Jojoba oil	65 g (2.3 oz)
Candelilla wax (vegan; or beeswax pellets)	8 g (0.28 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Vanilla fragrance oil (or vanilla-infused jojoba)	20 drops (about 1 g)

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, jojoba oil and candelilla wax together in a double boiler until fully clear (6-9 min — cocoa butter melts a bit slower than shea).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-35 min, until the edges turn pale and opaque.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and mousse-like with a faint chocolate smell.
- 5 Fold in the vanilla fragrance oil by hand for the last 30 seconds so the scent doesn't cook off.
- 6 Spoon into a jar and smooth the top.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Real cocoa butter keeps a faint natural chocolate smell even after whipping — vanilla rounds it into a dessert-like scent instead of fighting it.
- Cocoa butter whips up firmer than shea; if yours feels too stiff to scoop, add 5 g more jojoba oil next batch.

Unscented Whipped Kokum Butter with Grapeseed Oil

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Grapeseed oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (6-8 min). Kokum butter is quite hard, so give it the full time.
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until pale and fluffy.
- 5 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Kokum butter is one of the firmest natural butters, which makes this version extra stable in warm rooms — good for anyone sensitive to fragrance.
- No essential oil here on purpose: if you want a light scent later, you can stir 10-15 drops into a single jar without reformulating the whole batch.

Whipped Illipe Butter with Argan Oil & Rose

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Argan oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Rose essential oil (or rose fragrance oil)	15 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, argan oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (illipe is firm, allow 8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30 min, until the edges firm up and the center turns cloudy.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and silky.
- 5 Add the rose essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar, smoothing the top with the back of a spoon.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Illipe butter behaves like a firmer cousin of shea butter — it holds its whipped structure especially well in warm bathrooms.
- True rose essential oil is expensive and strong; a rose fragrance oil gives the same scent at a fraction of the cost if you're making this to sell or gift often.

Winter Spice Shea-Cocoa Butter Bar

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	100 g (3.5 oz)
Cocoa butter, chopped	80 g (2.8 oz)
Sweet almond oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz) — the high wax is what lets the bar hold its shape
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Cinnamon essential oil	8 drops
Vanilla fragrance oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, cocoa butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min — this mix carries a lot of wax).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the cinnamon and vanilla.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds (or one bar-shaped silicone loaf mold).
- 5 Refrigerate for 20-30 min, or leave at room temperature for 2-3 hours, until fully solid and opaque.
- 6 Pop the bars out of the molds and store in a tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- This is a solid lotion bar, not a whip: it's meant to be rubbed between warm hands until it melts into a thin layer, not scooped with fingers.
- Cinnamon essential oil is a strong skin sensitizer — the 8-drop dose across a 340 g batch keeps each bar's concentration low; don't be tempted to add more for a stronger scent.

Before you make this

Cinnamon essential oil can irritate skin at higher concentrations. This recipe keeps it deliberately low — do a patch test on your inner arm before using a full bar on your body, and don't increase the amount.

Whipped Shea Butter with Rosehip Oil & Jasmine

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Rosehip seed oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Jasmine fragrance oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, rosehip oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until cloudy and firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the jasmine fragrance oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Rosehip oil is thin and slightly nutty-smelling on its own — jasmine covers that nicely without needing a huge amount.
- Rosehip oil oxidizes faster than almond or jojoba; keep the jar's lid tight and use within the shelf life for the best scent and feel.

Whipped Mango Butter with Sunflower Oil & Grapefruit

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sunflower oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Grapefruit essential oil	25 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, sunflower oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-25 min, until the edges firm up.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and airy.
- 5 Add the grapefruit essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar and smooth the top.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Sunflower oil is light and fast-absorbing, which keeps this version from feeling heavy — good for daytime use under clothes.
- Grapefruit essential oil fades faster than citrus you'd expect; store the jar away from a sunny windowsill to keep the scent bright longer.

Bergamot Cocoa-Illipe Butter Bar

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Illipe butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Grapeseed oil	50 g (1.8 oz)
Beeswax pellets	100 g (3.5 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF, non-phototoxic type)	15 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, illipe butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the bergamot essential oil.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store in a tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Two firm butters plus a high wax ratio make this the sturdiest bar in the lineup — it travels well without melting in a gym bag.
- Regular bergamot oil is phototoxic (it can cause sun damage on treated skin); this recipe calls for the bergapten-free (FCF) type specifically so it's safe for leave-on daytime use.

Before you make this

Standard bergamot essential oil can cause skin damage in sunlight (phototoxicity). Use only a bergapten-free / FCF bergamot oil in a leave-on product like this, and if you're unsure which type you have, avoid direct sun on treated skin for 12-18 hours after use.

Whipped Kokum Butter with Avocado Oil & Eucalyptus Mint

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	110 g (3.9 oz)
Avocado oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Eucalyptus essential oil	15 drops
Peppermint essential oil	10 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, avocado oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (7-9 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the eucalyptus and peppermint essential oils in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Avocado oil is heavier and greener-smelling than almond or jojoba — the eucalyptus-mint combo keeps the overall scent crisp instead of muddy.
- Great for tired legs after a workout; the cooling tingle from the peppermint fades within a few minutes.

Before you make this

Peppermint essential oil can tingle strongly and isn't meant for the face, broken skin, or young children. Keep use to arms and legs and patch test if you haven't used peppermint on your skin before.

Holiday Orange Cardamom Shea-Mango Whipped Butter

Active time	15 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 oz (280 g), good for 3 small gift jars

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	80 g (2.8 oz)
Mango butter	70 g (2.5 oz)
Sweet almond oil	45 g (1.6 oz)
Beeswax pellets	16 g (0.56 oz) — a bit more than a single-butter whip, for extra firmness
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Sweet orange essential oil	25 drops
Cardamom essential oil	6 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, mango butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30-35 min — the extra wax and double butter make this firm up faster than a single-butter whip, so check it at the 20-min mark.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light but noticeably denser than a classic whip.
- 5 Add the orange and cardamom essential oils in the last minute of whipping.

6

Divide into 3 small gift jars (or one 10 oz jar) and smooth the tops.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- The double-butter base holds its shape better than a single-butter whip if the jars travel or sit somewhere warm before gifting.
- Cardamom is potent — 6 drops across the whole batch gives warmth without smelling medicinal; resist adding more.

Whipped Illipe Butter with Almond Oil & Rosemary Mint

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Sweet almond oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Rosemary essential oil	15 drops
Peppermint essential oil	8 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and silky.
- 5 Add the rosemary and peppermint essential oils in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar, smoothing the top.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- This combination makes a good morning leg-and-shoulder butter — rosemary smells sharp and herbal, peppermint adds a light wake-up tingle.
- If you want it purely herbal without the cooling effect, drop the peppermint and add 5 more drops of rosemary instead.

Spa Night Peppermint Eucalyptus Cocoa Butter Bars

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	100 g (3.5 oz)
Jojoba oil	70 g (2.5 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Peppermint essential oil	12 drops
Eucalyptus essential oil	15 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, jojoba oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the peppermint and eucalyptus.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store in a tin for the bath or shower shelf.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Rub a bar over calves and feet after a hot shower for a cooling, spa-like finish — the heat from your skin melts just enough to spread thin.
- Keep bars away from the eye area; the peppermint-eucalyptus combo is bracing if it gets near the face.

Before you make this

Peppermint and eucalyptus essential oils are strong on skin and shouldn't be used near the eyes, on broken skin, or on young children. Patch test if this is your first time using either oil on your body.

Whipped Shea Butter with Activated Charcoal & Eucalyptus

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sunflower oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Food-grade activated charcoal powder	2 g (about 1/2 tsp) — for a soft grey tint only
Eucalyptus essential oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, sunflower oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until cloudy and firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the eucalyptus essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Sprinkle the activated charcoal over the top and fold it in gently by hand with a spatula for a soft marbled grey look — don't whip it in, or the color goes flat and grey all over.

7

Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Start with less charcoal than you think you need — 2 g gives a smoky marbled look in 225 g of butter; more turns the whole jar dark grey.
- Activated charcoal can mark light-colored towels at first; let skin absorb fully before dressing.

Holiday Vanilla Bean Kokum-Mango Butter Bars

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	eight 1.5 oz (40 g) mini bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Mango butter	90 g (3.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	100 g (3.5 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Vanilla fragrance oil	30 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, mango butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the vanilla fragrance oil.
- 4 Pour into eight small mini-bar or mini-muffin silicone molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 15-20 min, or room temperature 1.5-2 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and wrap individually or box as a gift set.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Mini bars are an easy stocking-stuffer size — eight bars from one batch means low cost per gift.
- If a bar looks dull or has a thin white film after unmolding, that's cocoa-butter-style bloom from fast cooling; it doesn't affect how it performs, only the shine.

Whipped Mango Butter with Pink Clay & Rose

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
French pink cosmetic clay	4 g (about 1 tsp) — for a soft blush tint only
Rose fragrance oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the rose fragrance oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Sift the pink clay over the top and fold it in gently with a spatula just until streaky — over-mixing turns the whole batch a flat, even pink.

7

Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- French pink clay is mild and mostly used here for color, not for its usual clay benefits (those need water contact to really work) — think of it as a natural blush, not an active ingredient.
- For a deeper rose color, add clay in 1 g increments and check the shade before adding more.

Whipped Cocoa Butter with Rosehip Oil & Cinnamon

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Rosehip seed oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.28 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Cinnamon essential oil	5 drops — keep this low, see safety note
Vanilla fragrance oil	15 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, rosehip oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until the edges turn pale and opaque.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and mousse-like.
- 5 Add the cinnamon and vanilla in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar and smooth the top.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- This smells like spiced hot chocolate — the natural cocoa butter scent does a lot of the work, so cinnamon only needs a whisper.
- If the cinnamon scent fades faster than you'd like after a few weeks, add 2 more drops to your next batch rather than increasing this one.

Before you make this

Cinnamon essential oil is a known skin sensitizer even in small amounts. This recipe uses a low, leave-on-safe dose — don't add more, and patch test on your inner arm before applying to larger areas.

Unscented Whipped Shea Butter for Sensitive Skin

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	125 g (4.4 oz)
Grapeseed oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until cloudy and firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- No fragrance or essential oil at all makes this a safe default for reactive skin, eczema-prone patches, or right after shaving.
- Grapeseed oil is lighter and less greasy-feeling than almond oil, which suits sensitive skin that doesn't like heavy residue.

Holiday Jasmine Illipe-Cocoa Butter Bars

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Cocoa butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	50 g (1.8 oz)
Beeswax pellets	100 g (3.5 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Jasmine fragrance oil	25 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, cocoa butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the jasmine fragrance oil.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and wrap for gifting.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- The illipe-cocoa combination makes an unusually hard, long-wearing bar — a good choice if you're shipping gifts in warm weather.
- Jasmine is a heavy, sweet floral; if you want it lighter, blend half jasmine with half a citrus fragrance oil instead.

Whipped Kokum Butter with Argan Oil & Bergamot

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	110 g (3.9 oz)
Argan oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF, non-phototoxic type)	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, argan oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (7-9 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the bergamot essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Argan oil's nutty undertone pairs well with bergamot's bright citrus-floral note instead of competing with it.
- Kokum butter whips to a very stable, dense foam — if yours feels too stiff to scoop cold, let the jar sit at room temperature for a few minutes first.

Before you make this

Standard bergamot essential oil can cause skin damage in sunlight (phototoxicity). Use only a bergapten-free / FCF bergamot oil in this leave-on product, and avoid direct sun on treated skin for 12-18 hours if unsure of the type.

Lavender Mango Butter Solid Bar

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	100 g (3.5 oz)
Sunflower oil	70 g (2.5 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Lavender essential oil	30 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, sunflower oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the lavender essential oil.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store in a tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Mango butter makes a slightly softer bar than cocoa or illipe — it glides on a touch more easily, which works well for a bedtime routine.
- Keep a bar on the nightstand: rubbing it over hands and feet before bed is a simple wind-down ritual.

Winter Rich Cardamom Vanilla Shea-Illipe Whip

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 10 oz (280 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	80 g (2.8 oz)
Illipe butter, chopped	70 g (2.5 oz)
Avocado oil	45 g (1.6 oz)
Beeswax pellets	16 g (0.56 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Cardamom essential oil	8 drops
Vanilla fragrance oil	25 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, illipe butter, avocado oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30-35 min — check at 20 min, since the double butter and extra wax firm up faster than a single-butter whip.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light but denser than a classic single-butter whip.
- 5 Add the cardamom and vanilla in the last minute of whipping.

6

Spoon into a 10 oz jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- This is the richest, heaviest whip in the lineup — built for cracked winter heels and elbows, not for a light daytime layer.
- Avocado oil adds a deep green tint to the raw mixture that fades to warm cream once whipped; that's normal, not a sign anything went wrong.

Golden Turmeric Whipped Cocoa Butter

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Sweet almond oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.28 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Turmeric powder (for color)	1.5 g (about 1/4 tsp) — a little goes a long way
Sweet orange essential oil	15 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until the edges turn pale.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Whisk the turmeric powder into the orange essential oil first to break up any clumps, then fold this paste into the whipped butter by hand.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Turmeric can temporarily tint very light skin, nails, and pale fabrics (like white towels) a faint yellow — let it absorb fully before dressing, and test on a small patch first if this is new for you.
- 1.5 g is enough for a warm golden tone in 225 g of butter; adding much more mostly adds staining risk without improving the color.

Before you make this

Turmeric can stain light fabric and may temporarily tint very fair skin. It's used here only for color in a small, tested amount — let the butter absorb fully before putting on light-colored clothing.

Spa Night Eucalyptus Rosemary Kokum Butter Bars

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	100 g (3.5 oz)
Jojoba oil	70 g (2.5 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Eucalyptus essential oil	18 drops
Rosemary essential oil	12 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, jojoba oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min — kokum butter is very firm).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the eucalyptus and rosemary.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store near the shower or bath.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Keep one bar in the shower caddy — the steam helps release the eucalyptus-rosemary scent as you rub it on damp skin at the end of a shower.
- Kokum butter makes an unusually hard bar; if it feels tough to rub on cold skin, warm it briefly between your palms first.

Whipped Mango Butter with Rosehip Oil & Rose

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Rosehip seed oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Rose fragrance oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, rosehip oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the rose fragrance oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Rosehip oil has a natural reddish-orange tint that can carry through faintly into the finished whip — that's the oil, not a flaw.
- This pairing leans toward a classic, old-fashioned rose scent; layer it under a floral perfume for a long-lasting base note.

Summer Grapefruit Mint Shea-Cocoa Whip

Active time	15 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 4 oz (115 g), a travel-size tin

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	35 g (1.2 oz)
Cocoa butter, chopped	25 g (0.88 oz)
Grapeseed oil	40 g (1.4 oz) — extra oil keeps this light for summer
Beeswax pellets	5 g (0.18 oz)
Vitamin E oil	1.5 g (about 1/4 tsp)
Grapefruit essential oil	12 drops
Peppermint essential oil	4 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, cocoa butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-6 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 15-20 min — this small batch cools faster than a full-size one, so check it early.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 4-5 min, until light and airy.
- 5 Add the grapefruit and peppermint essential oils in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a small 4 oz travel tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- The higher oil-to-butter ratio and small batch size make this soak in fast with almost no greasy feel — built for hot weather, not winter dryness.
- A travel tin like this is the right size for a beach bag or gym bag without taking up much room.

Unscented Whipped Illipe Butter, Baby-Safe

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and silky.
- 5 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- No essential oils at all makes this a reasonable choice for very young or reactive skin — check with a pediatrician before using any new product on an infant, since 'natural' doesn't automatically mean safe for babies.

- If you want a trace of scent for an adult version, a single drop of chamomile or lavender per ounce is a gentle place to start — keep it well below that for anyone under 2.

Holiday Jasmine Vanilla Cocoa-Mango Whip

Argan oil	45 g (1.6 oz)

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, mango butter, argan oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30-35 min, checking at 20 min since the double-butter base firms up faster.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light but denser than a single-butter whip.
- 5 Add the jasmine and vanilla in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a 10 oz gift jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- Jasmine and vanilla together smell like a warm, sweet perfume — a good fit for a holiday gift jar with a ribbon.
- The natural cocoa butter scent underneath adds a subtle dessert note without needing a chocolate fragrance oil.

Whipped Kokum Butter with Almond Oil & Orange Cinnamon

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	110 g (3.9 oz)
Sweet almond oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Sweet orange essential oil	25 drops
Cinnamon essential oil	4 drops — keep this low, see safety note

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (7-9 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the orange and cinnamon essential oils in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- This smells like mulled cider — orange does most of the work, cinnamon just rounds out the warmth at a very low dose.
- Good as a cool-weather alternative to a purely floral whip without going fully into heavy winter-spice territory.

Before you make this

Cinnamon essential oil is a known skin sensitizer even in small amounts. This recipe uses a low, leave-on-safe dose — don't add more, and patch test before applying to larger areas.

Charcoal Detox Shea Butter Bar

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	110 g (3.9 oz)
Avocado oil	65 g (2.3 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Food-grade activated charcoal powder	2.5 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Eucalyptus essential oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, avocado oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then whisk in the activated charcoal until evenly dispersed, followed by the eucalyptus.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store in a dark-colored tin (charcoal can dust light containers).

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Unlike the whipped charcoal recipe, this one mixes the charcoal fully into the melted base before pouring, so the bars come out an even charcoal-grey instead of marbled.
- 'Detox' here just means a moisturizing bar with a charcoal tint and a fresh eucalyptus scent — avoid implying any medical detox claim when describing it.

Summer Peppermint Illipe Butter Whip

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 4 oz (115 g), a travel-size tin

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	40 g (1.4 oz)
Grapeseed oil	45 g (1.6 oz)
Beeswax pellets	5 g (0.18 oz)
Vitamin E oil	1.5 g (about 1/4 tsp)
Peppermint essential oil	6 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (6-8 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 15-20 min.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 4-6 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the peppermint essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a 4 oz travel tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- A high oil ratio keeps this from feeling heavy on hot, sweaty skin, while the peppermint adds a cooling finish.
- Keep this size in the fridge in very hot climates for an extra-refreshing after-sun application.

Before you make this

Peppermint essential oil shouldn't be used near the eyes, on broken or sunburned skin, or on young children. Patch test first if this is new for you.

Spa Night Lavender Rosemary Mango-Kokum Whip

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 10 oz (280 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT

Jojoba oil	50 g (1.8 oz)
Beeswax pellets	16 g (0.56 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Lavender essential oil	20 drops
Rosemary essential oil	8 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, kokum butter, jojoba oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min — kokum butter takes the longest to melt).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.

- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light but denser than a single-butter whip.
- 5 Add the lavender and rosemary in the last minute of whipping.

6

Spoon into a 10 oz jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- Lavender calms, rosemary keeps it from smelling purely sweet — a good combination for a wind-down massage before bed.
- This whip is firm enough to double as a solid-ish massage butter that warms and softens between the hands before application.

Whipped Shea Butter with Rosehip Oil & Bergamot

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Rosehip seed oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF, non-phototoxic type)	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, rosehip oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until cloudy and firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the bergamot essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Rosehip oil's slightly earthy base note and bergamot's bright citrus-floral top note balance each other out nicely.
- This is a good 'everyday elegant' jar — not overtly sweet or heavily herbal, just a clean citrus-floral finish.

Before you make this

Standard bergamot essential oil can cause skin damage in sunlight (phototoxicity). Use only a bergapten-free / FCF bergamot oil in this leave-on product, and avoid direct sun on treated skin for 12-18 hours if unsure of the type.

Holiday Cardamom Orange Cocoa Butter Bar

Sweet almond oil	65 g (2.3 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min).

- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the orange and cardamom.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and box for gifting.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Orange and cardamom over a cocoa-butter base smells like a holiday dessert without needing any actual chocolate or vanilla added.
- Wrap bars in parchment and twine for a rustic gift presentation that also keeps them from sticking to tissue paper.

Unscented Whipped Mango Butter

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	125 g (4.4 oz)
Sunflower oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, sunflower oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-25 min, until the edges firm up.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and airy.
- 5 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Mango butter on its own has almost no smell, which makes this a good base to layer under perfume without clashing scents.

- This plain version also works well as a 'canvas' — stir 15-20 drops of any essential oil into a single jar yourself without touching the master batch.

Winter Rich Vanilla Illipe-Shea Whip

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 10 oz (280 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	80 g (2.8 oz)
Shea butter	65 g (2.3 oz)
Argan oil	45 g (1.6 oz)
Beeswax pellets	16 g (0.56 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Vanilla fragrance oil	30 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, shea butter, argan oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30-35 min, checking at 20 min.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light but denser than a single-butter whip.
- 5 Add the vanilla fragrance oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a 10 oz jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- This is built for the driest months — thicker application, longer-lasting barrier, and a cozy vanilla scent to match.
- If it feels too thick to scoop straight from the fridge in winter, leave the jar on a warm windowsill or radiator shelf for a few minutes first.

Whipped Kokum Butter with Grapeseed Oil & Eucalyptus

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Grapeseed oil	58 g (2.0 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Eucalyptus essential oil	22 drops

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (7-9 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the eucalyptus essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- A single clean scent (just eucalyptus) keeps this one simple — good for a gym bag or a congested-feeling morning.
- Grapeseed oil is light enough that this whip still feels non-greasy even with kokum butter's density.

Whipped Cocoa Butter with Pink Clay & Rose

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Jojoba oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.28 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
French pink cosmetic clay	3 g (about 3/4 tsp) — for a soft tint only
Rose fragrance oil	18 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, jojoba oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until the edges turn pale.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and mousse-like.
- 5 Add the rose fragrance oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Sift the pink clay over the top and fold in by hand just until streaky, for a marbled rose-and-cream look.
- 7 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Cocoa butter's pale yellow base mutes pink clay into more of a dusty rose than a bright pink — that's expected with this butter.
- If the marbling blends too evenly and goes flat pink, fold more gently and for less time next round.

Grapefruit Bergamot Mango Butter Bar

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	100 g (3.5 oz)
Avocado oil	65 g (2.3 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Grapefruit essential oil	20 drops
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF, non-phototoxic type)	10 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, avocado oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the grapefruit and bergamot.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store in a tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- A bright, uplifting citrus bar — good for a morning shower routine rather than a bedtime one.
- If the citrus scent fades within a few weeks, that's normal for essential oils; add a drop or two directly to a bar you're actively using to refresh it.

Before you make this

Standard bergamot essential oil can cause skin damage in sunlight (phototoxicity). Use only a bergapten-free / FCF bergamot oil in this leave-on product, and avoid direct sun on treated skin for 12-18 hours if unsure of the type.

Kokum butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	55 g (1.9 oz)

- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the vanilla and cinnamon.

6 Pop out of the molds and box or wrap individually.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- This smells like a snickerdoodle cookie — vanilla leads, cinnamon just adds warmth at a low, skin-safe dose.
- Mini bars like these are an easy low-cost line to make in a big batch for a holiday market table.

Before you make this

Cinnamon essential oil is a known skin sensitizer even in small amounts. This recipe uses a low, leave-on-safe dose spread across eight bars — don't add more, and patch test before full use.

Whipped Illipe Butter with Rosehip Oil & Jasmine

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Rosehip seed oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Jasmine fragrance oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, rosehip oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30 min, until the edges firm up.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and silky.
- 5 Add the jasmine fragrance oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Illipe's firm structure holds the whip's peaks well, so this one looks especially good if you're piping it into jars rather than just spooning it.
- Jasmine is strong; if you prefer it lighter, cut the amount to 10-12 drops and top up with a neutral carrier like extra rosehip oil.

Summer Orange Whipped Cocoa Butter

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 4 oz (115 g), a travel-size tin

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	30 g (1.1 oz)
Sunflower oil	50 g (1.8 oz)
Beeswax pellets	5 g (0.18 oz)
Vitamin E oil	1.5 g (about 1/4 tsp)
Sweet orange essential oil	15 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, sunflower oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (6-8 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 15-20 min.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 4-6 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the sweet orange essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a 4 oz travel tin.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- A light cocoa-orange scent that reads more like a creamsicle than a rich chocolate dessert, thanks to the higher oil ratio.
- Sweet orange essential oil is generally not considered phototoxic at normal leave-on doses, unlike cold-pressed bergamot or lime — a reasonable citrus pick for daytime summer use.

Turmeric Cardamom Shea Butter Bar

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	110 g (3.9 oz)
Sweet almond oil	65 g (2.3 oz)
Beeswax pellets	95 g (3.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Turmeric powder (for color)	2 g (about 1/3 tsp)
Cardamom essential oil	8 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming. Whisk the turmeric into a teaspoon of the warm mixture first to form a smooth paste, then stir that paste back into the batch along with the cardamom.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.
- 6 Pop out of the molds and store in a dark tin, away from light fabric.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Pre-mixing turmeric into a small amount of warm base before adding it to the whole batch avoids yellow clumps or streaks.
- This spiced golden bar makes a nice gift paired with the Golden Turmeric Whipped Cocoa Butter for a matching 'golden spice' set.

Before you make this

Turmeric can stain light fabric and may temporarily tint very fair skin. Let bars absorb fully before dressing, and keep them away from light-colored towels and linens while they're new.

Spa Night Lavender Mango-Illipe Whip

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 10 oz (280 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Mango butter	75 g (2.6 oz)
Illipe butter, chopped	70 g (2.5 oz)
Grapeseed oil	45 g (1.6 oz)
Beeswax pellets	16 g (0.56 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Lavender essential oil	28 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the mango butter, illipe butter, grapeseed oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (9-11 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 30-35 min, checking at 20 min.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light but denser than a single-butter whip.
- 5 Add the lavender essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a 10 oz jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- A single, generous dose of lavender (no blending with other oils) keeps this one purely calming — ideal right before bed.
- The mango-illipe combination gives a silkier glide than an all-illipe whip, while staying firmer than an all-mango one.

Fragrance-Free Whipped Kokum Butter

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	120 g (4.2 oz)
Argan oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, argan oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (7-9 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Spoon into a jar without tapping it down.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Argan oil's naturally nutty smell is faint enough that this still reads as 'unscented' to most noses once whipped.

- A dependable option for anyone who finds even mild essential oil blends too strong for daily, all-over use.

Whipped Cocoa Butter with Avocado Oil, Rose & Vanilla

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	110 g (3.9 oz)
Avocado oil	65 g (2.3 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.28 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Rose fragrance oil	12 drops
Vanilla fragrance oil	12 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, avocado oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (8-10 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until the edges turn pale.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and mousse-like.
- 5 Add the rose and vanilla fragrance oils in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- Avocado oil is heavier than almond or jojoba, which makes this a good pick for very dry skin despite the lighter floral scent on top.
- The rose-vanilla blend over a cocoa butter base smells closer to a bakery-floral perfume than a straightforward dessert scent.

Whipped Shea Butter with Almond Oil & Rosemary Peppermint

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Shea butter	120 g (4.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	58 g (2.0 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Rosemary essential oil	18 drops
Peppermint essential oil	7 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the shea butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (5-7 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 20-30 min, until cloudy and firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 5-7 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the rosemary and peppermint essential oils in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. This recipe has no water in it, so it doesn't need a preservative — just keep water (wet fingers, steam) out of the jar.

Tips

- This is an energizing morning blend — rub a small amount into calves and forearms before a workout or a long day on your feet.
- Rosemary essential oil has a strong, medicinal-herbal smell on its own; the small amount of peppermint here brightens it instead of making it sharper.

Before you make this

Peppermint essential oil can tingle strongly on skin. Keep use to arms and legs, avoid the face and broken skin, and patch test if you haven't used peppermint on your body before.

Holiday Bergamot Cardamom Illipe-Mango Butter Bars

Active time	15 min active, plus 30 min to set
Batch size	six 2 oz (55 g) bars, about 12 oz (340 g) total

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Illipe butter, chopped	90 g (3.2 oz)
Mango butter	90 g (3.2 oz)
Sweet almond oil	50 g (1.8 oz)
Beeswax pellets	100 g (3.5 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF, non-phototoxic type)	15 drops
Cardamom essential oil	6 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the illipe butter, mango butter, almond oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-12 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Let it cool for 3-4 min, just until it stops steaming, then stir in the bergamot and cardamom.
- 4 Pour into six silicone bar molds.
- 5 Refrigerate 20-30 min, or room temperature 2-3 hours, until fully solid.

6

Pop out of the molds and wrap for gifting.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature in a sealed tin or jar. Anhydrous, so no preservative is needed — just keep the bar dry between uses.

Tips

- Bergamot and cardamom together smell closer to a spiced tea than a straightforward citrus — a distinctive option for a holiday bundle.
- The illipe-mango blend gives a bar that's sturdy for shipping but still glides on smoothly, splitting the difference between the two butters' textures.

Before you make this

Standard bergamot essential oil can cause skin damage in sunlight (phototoxicity). Use only a bergapten-free / FCF bergamot oil in this leave-on product, and avoid direct sun on treated skin for 12-18 hours if unsure of the type.

Whipped Kokum Butter with Activated Charcoal & Eucalyptus

Active time 15 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 8 oz (225 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Kokum butter, chopped	115 g (4.1 oz)
Rosehip seed oil	55 g (1.9 oz)
Beeswax pellets	10 g (0.35 oz)
Vitamin E oil	3 g (about 1/2 tsp)
Food-grade activated charcoal powder	2 g (about 1/2 tsp) — for a soft grey tint only
Eucalyptus essential oil	20 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the kokum butter, rosehip oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until clear (7-9 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 25-30 min, until firm at the edges.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 6-8 min, until light and fluffy.
- 5 Add the eucalyptus essential oil in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Sprinkle the activated charcoal over the top and fold it in gently by hand for a marbled look — don't whip it in or the color goes flat grey.

7

Spoon into a jar.

Shelf life

6-12 months at room temperature, away from direct heat. This is a water-free (anhydrous) recipe, so it doesn't need a preservative.

Tips

- Kokum butter's density holds the charcoal marbling in distinct streaks rather than letting it sink, so the jar still looks good weeks later.
- This pairs well as a post-workout foot and leg butter: eucalyptus feels fresh, and the grey tone hides the kind of light staining other pale whips might show from socks or shoes.

Winter Spice Vanilla Cinnamon Cocoa-Shea Whip

Active time 20 min active, no cook time

Batch size about 12 oz (340 g)

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Cocoa butter, chopped	100 g (3.5 oz)
Shea butter	90 g (3.2 oz)
Sunflower oil	60 g (2.1 oz)
Beeswax pellets	20 g (0.7 oz)
Vitamin E oil	4 g (about 3/4 tsp)
Vanilla fragrance oil	35 drops
Cinnamon essential oil	8 drops — keep this low, see safety note

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter, shea butter, sunflower oil and beeswax together in a double boiler until fully clear (10-13 min — this is the largest batch in the lineup, so give it extra time).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Cool at room temperature for 35-40 min, checking at 25 min since the double-butter base and larger volume firm up unevenly if rushed.
- 4 Whip on medium-high for 7-9 min, until light but noticeably denser than a single-butter whip — this size needs a stand mixer more than a hand mixer.

- 5 Add the vanilla and cinnamon in the last minute of whipping.
- 6 Spoon into a 12 oz jar, pressing gently to avoid large air pockets given the bigger batch.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water, no preservative needed — this richer, double-butter blend is especially stable.

Tips

- This is the biggest jar in the collection — a good 'family size' or refill option for whoever goes through body butter fastest.
- Because it's a larger batch, cool it in a single wide bowl rather than a narrow one so the center doesn't stay warm while the edges are already firm.

Before you make this

Cinnamon essential oil is a known skin sensitizer even in small amounts. This recipe uses a low, leave-on-safe dose across a 340 g batch — don't add more, and patch test before full-body use.
