Peppermint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil (gives shine and a slightly glossy finish)	6 g
Sweet almond oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Peppermint essential oil	2-3 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and almond oil in a small cup.
- 2 Add the vitamin E oil and stir.
- 3 Add the peppermint essential oil, 1 drop at a time, stirring and tasting a tiny dab between drops — peppermint is strong.
- 4 Use a dropper or small funnel to fill clean lip oil tubes.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed.

Tips

- Peppermint oil can tingle more than expected on lips — start with 2 drops and add a third only if you want a stronger cooling effect.
- Swap peppermint for a flavor oil (not essential oil) if you want sweetness instead of a cooling tingle.

Before you make this

Keep peppermint essential oil away from the eyes, and don't use this on very young children's lips without checking the essential oil is rated safe for their age.

Vanilla Bean Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Sweet almond oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Vanilla flavor oil (food-grade, not extract)	4-5 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and almond oil in a small cup.
- 2 Add the vitamin E oil and stir.
- 3 Add the vanilla flavor oil and stir well.
- 4 Use a dropper or small funnel to fill clean lip oil tubes.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Vanilla flavor oil is food-grade and safe at higher drop counts than essential oils — taste a dab to judge strength before adding more.
- This one skips essential oils entirely, so it's a good base for anyone with a sensitive mouth.

Rosy Tint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	7 g
Joboba oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade red iron oxide powder	a scant pinch, about 0.05 g (1/16 tsp or less)

Method

- 1 Put the iron oxide powder in a small cup first and add 1 g of the castor oil.
- 2 Stir and mash with the back of a spoon for a full minute until no gritty specks remain — this prevents a speckled, uneven tint.
- 3 Add the rest of the castor oil, the jojoba oil, and the vitamin E oil, stirring well.
- 4 Let it sit for 10 minutes and check for settled grit at the bottom; strain through a fine mesh if needed.
- 5 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Start with less iron oxide than you think — a little gives a sheer rosy wash, too much looks like a muddy stain.
- This is a tint, not full coverage like a lipstick; it's meant to look like your lips, just a shade warmer.

Peppermint Cocoa Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	5 g
Refined cocoa butter, melted	2 g
Sweet almond oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Peppermint essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter in a small cup set in warm water for 1-2 minutes, until liquid.
- 2 Stir in the castor oil and almond oil.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and peppermint essential oil, stirring well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes right away, before the cocoa butter starts to set.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Cocoa butter adds a faint chocolate smell on its own — it pairs naturally with the mint.
- If it firms up in the tube on cool days, that's normal; warm the tube between your palms before using.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Sweet Almond Everyday Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	7 g
Castor oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- No added scent or flavor here, by design — this is the one to recommend to anyone with fragrance sensitivities.
- Almond oil absorbs fast, so this feels lighter than the castor-heavy recipes; add an extra gram of castor oil if you prefer more shine.

Strawberry Shortcake Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Fractionated coconut oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Strawberry flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and fractionated coconut oil in a small cup.
- 2 Add the vitamin E oil and stir.
- 3 Add the strawberry flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Fractionated coconut oil stays liquid at any room temperature, so this pours easily even in winter.
- Taste-test the flavor strength on a fingertip before filling tubes — food flavor oils vary a lot in intensity by brand.

Jojoba Glass Skin Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Jojoba oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)

Method

- 1 Combine the jojoba oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Fill clean lip oil tubes or a small glass bottle with a wand applicator.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Jojoba oil is technically a liquid wax, close to skin's own oils — this version feels the least greasy of all the base oils.
- This is a great plain base to split into small batches and scent differently for a sampler gift set.

Candy Cane Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Sweet almond oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Peppermint essential oil	1 drop
Vanilla flavor oil (food-grade)	3 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and almond oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the peppermint essential oil and vanilla flavor oil, stirring well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This is a holiday gift favorite — the mint is kept very light so the vanilla comes through as the main note.
- Package in a small red or green box for a stocking-stuffer look.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Grapeseed Summer Glow Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Grapeseed oil	5 g
Castor oil	4 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Sweet orange essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the grapeseed oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the sweet orange essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Grapeseed oil is very light and thin, which makes this one of the glossiest, least sticky blends in the lineup.
- Keep it out of direct sun in a hot car — thin oils like grapeseed oxidize a little faster than heavier ones.

Before you make this

This recipe uses a cold-pressed citrus essential oil, which can make skin more sensitive to sunlight. The amount here is small and it's going on lips, not a large skin area, so the risk is low — but avoid sun exposure and tanning beds on treated lips for a few hours after applying, and do a patch test on your inner arm first if it's a new oil for you.

Coconut Pina Colada Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Pineapple-coconut flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Fractionated coconut oil doesn't smell like coconut on its own — all the tropical scent comes from the flavor oil, so you control the strength.
- A fun one for a summer or vacation-themed gift set.

Winter Repair Lip Balm

Active time	10 min active, 2 min melt time
Batch size	about 1 oz (28 g), fills about 6 standard lip balm tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	12 g (0.4 oz)
Shea butter	6 g (0.2 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	1 g (about 20 drops)
Sweet orange essential oil	3 drops

Method

- 1 Set up a double boiler: a heatproof cup in a small pot with 1 in (2-3 cm) of simmering water.
- 2 Melt the beeswax and shea butter together, stirring until fully liquid (3-5 min).
- 3 Remove from heat and stir in the castor oil.
- 4 Add the vitamin E oil and sweet orange essential oil, stirring well.
- 5 Pour into empty lip balm tubes or small tins right away, before it starts to set.
- 6 Let cool undisturbed at room temperature for 20-30 min before capping.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This is a solid balm, not a liquid oil — the extra beeswax is exactly what makes it stiff enough to twist up in a tube.
- For chapped, cracked winter lips, apply a thicker layer at night and let it work while you sleep.

Before you make this

This recipe uses a cold-pressed citrus essential oil, which can make skin more sensitive to sunlight. The amount here is small and it's going on lips, not a large skin area, so the risk is low — but avoid sun exposure and tanning beds on treated lips for a few hours after applying, and do a patch test on your inner arm first if it's a new oil for you.

Lavender Dream Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Lavender essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the lavender essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Lavender is one of the gentler essential oils for lips, but it's still concentrated — keep to the drop count given.
- A calming bedtime option; pair it with a lavender body oil for a matching set.

Before you make this

Lavender essential oil is generally well tolerated, but it's still concentrated. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips.

Honey Almond Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	7 g
Castor oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Honey flavor oil (food-grade)	4-5 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the honey flavor oil and stir until blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Use a food-grade honey flavor oil, not real honey — real honey is water-based and will spoil in an oil blend.
- This one reads as 'lip balm classic' flavor-wise, a safe pick for gift sets aimed at a wide range of people.

Blood Orange Tint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	7 g
Fractionated coconut oil	1.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade red iron oxide powder	a scant pinch, about 0.05 g
Sweet orange essential oil	1 drop

Method

- 1 Put the iron oxide powder in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and mash with the back of a spoon for a full minute until smooth.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the fractionated coconut oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and sweet orange essential oil.
- 4 Let sit 10 minutes, strain through a fine mesh if any grit settles, then fill clean lip oil tubes.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- The orange oil is kept to a single drop here since this is meant to be a subtle color-and-shine product, not a strong citrus scent.

- If the tint looks too orange-red for your taste, that's the iron oxide batch — try a slightly smaller pinch next time.

Before you make this

This recipe uses a cold-pressed citrus essential oil, which can make skin more sensitive to sunlight. The amount here is small and it's going on lips, not a large skin area, so the risk is low — but avoid sun exposure and tanning beds on treated lips for a few hours after applying, and do a patch test on your inner arm first if it's a new oil for you.

Fragrance-Free Sensitive Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- No essential oils, no flavor oils, no color — this is the one to reach for on chapped, irritated, or reactive lips.
- Fractionated coconut oil has almost no scent of its own, so this stays truly neutral.

Cinnamon Spice Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	7 g
Sweet almond oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cinnamon essential oil	1 drop, no more

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and almond oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the single drop of cinnamon essential oil and stir thoroughly so it's fully diluted through the whole blend.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Cinnamon is one of the few essential oils where more is genuinely dangerous on lips — one drop in this batch size is already a warming, spicy effect.

- If you want a milder spice without any heat risk, swap the cinnamon essential oil for a cinnamon flavor oil instead.

Before you make this

Cinnamon essential oil is a strong skin irritant even in small amounts and can cause real burning on lips if overdosed. Do a patch test on your inner arm 24 hours before applying to lips, and never exceed the drop count given here.

Macadamia Rose Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Macadamia nut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Rose flavor oil or rose fragrance oil (skin-safe, food- or cosmetic-grade)	4-5 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the macadamia oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the rose flavor or fragrance oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Macadamia oil is rich and slightly heavier than almond oil, which makes this feel more cushiony on dry lips.
- Use a rose fragrance oil formulated for cosmetics rather than a candle fragrance oil — not all fragrance oils are skin-safe.

Mint Chocolate Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	5 g
Refined cocoa butter, melted	2 g
Fractionated coconut oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Peppermint essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter in a small cup set in warm water for 1-2 minutes.
- 2 Stir in the castor oil and fractionated coconut oil.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and peppermint essential oil, stirring well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes right away, before the cocoa butter starts to set.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This is a slightly richer cousin of the Peppermint Cocoa Lip Oil, with more coconut oil for a softer, less waxy pour.
- Store in a cool spot — cocoa butter blends can soften in a hot car or direct sun.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Coral Sunset Tint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Sweet almond oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade red iron oxide powder	a scant pinch, about 0.04 g
Cosmetic-grade yellow iron oxide powder	a tiny pinch, about 0.02 g

Method

- 1 Put both iron oxide powders in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and mash with the back of a spoon until smooth, about a minute.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the almond oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and stir again.
- 4 Let sit 10 minutes, strain through a fine mesh if needed, then fill clean lip oil tubes.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Mixing red and yellow iron oxide gives a warmer coral tone than red alone — adjust the ratio slightly to shift it more pink or more orange.

- Test the tint on the back of your hand first; lip skin can show color a shade darker than it looks in the tube.

Oatmeal Milk Lip Balm

Active time	10 min active, 2 min melt time
Batch size	about 1 oz (28 g), fills about 6 standard lip balm tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	11 g (0.4 oz)
Shea butter	5 g (0.18 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	1 g (about 20 drops)
Oatmeal milk flavor oil (food-grade)	6-8 drops

Method

- 1 Set up a double boiler and melt the beeswax and shea butter together, stirring until liquid (3-5 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the almond oil.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and oatmeal milk flavor oil, stirring well.
- 4 Pour into empty lip balm tubes or small tins right away, before it sets.
- 5 Let cool undisturbed for 20-30 min before capping.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This flavor profile is mild and cozy, a good choice for a comfort-themed or 'bakery' style gift set.
- If it doesn't release cleanly from a tube mold, chill it in the fridge for 10 minutes before twisting it down.

Bergamot Earl Grey Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF, non-phototoxic grade preferred)	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the bergamot essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Regular (non-FCF) bergamot oil is one of the most phototoxic essential oils that exists — use a bergapten-free (FCF) version if you can find one, which removes most of that risk.
- This gives a sophisticated, tea-like scent rather than a straightforward citrus smell.

Before you make this

Bergamot is a cold-pressed citrus oil and, unless you're using a bergapten-free (FCF) version, it's one of the more phototoxic essential oils available — it can cause real skin reactions in direct sun. Do a patch test on your inner arm first, and avoid sun or tanning beds on treated lips for several hours after use.

Avocado Vanilla Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Avocado oil	5 g
Castor oil	4 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Vanilla flavor oil (food-grade)	4 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the avocado oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the vanilla flavor oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Avocado oil is thicker and greener in color than most light carrier oils, so this blend can look faintly golden-green — that's normal.
- It's also heavier on the lips, which makes it a good pick for very dry climates.

Watermelon Fizz Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Watermelon flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the watermelon flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This is one of the brightest, most playful scents in the lineup — great for a summer or back-to-school batch.
- Pair with a pink-tinted version (see the tinted recipes) if you want color to match the fruity scent.

Frankincense Calm Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Frankincense essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the frankincense essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Frankincense has a resinous, grounding scent that reads more 'spa' than 'sweet' — a nice option for an adult gift set.
- This essential oil is mild for most people, but still worth a patch test if it's new to your routine.

Before you make this

Frankincense essential oil is gentle for most people, but it's still concentrated. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips.

Grapefruit Wake-Up Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Grapeseed oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Grapefruit essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the grapeseed oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the grapefruit essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Grapefruit is a brighter, less sweet citrus than orange — a good match for a morning routine kit.
- Keep this one in a bag out of direct sun; cold-pressed citrus oils fade and oxidize faster in heat and light.

Before you make this

This recipe uses a cold-pressed citrus essential oil, which can make skin more sensitive to sunlight. The amount here is small and it's going on lips, not a large skin area, so the risk is low — but avoid sun exposure and tanning beds on treated lips for a few hours after applying, and do a patch test on your inner arm first if it's a new oil for you.

Rose Gold Shimmer Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Jojoba oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade mica powder, warm gold shade (skin-safe, labeled for cosmetic use)	a scant pinch, about 0.05 g

Method

- 1 Put the mica powder in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and stir until fully dispersed, with no clumps.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the jojoba oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and stir again.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel, shaking before each use since mica can settle.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Only use mica labeled for cosmetic/lip use — craft-grade glitter and mica are not safe for lips or skin.

- Shake the tube before each application; the shimmer will settle to the bottom between uses.

Ginger Citrus Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Ginger essential oil	1 drop
Sweet orange essential oil	1 drop

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the ginger and sweet orange essential oils and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Ginger essential oil can warm the skin slightly — one drop in this batch size keeps it pleasant rather than hot.
- A good autumn-leaning scent that's spicier than straight citrus but milder than cinnamon.

Before you make this

This recipe uses a cold-pressed citrus essential oil, which can make skin more sensitive to sunlight. The amount here is small and it's going on lips, not a large skin area, so the risk is low — but avoid sun exposure and tanning beds on treated lips for a few hours after applying, and do a patch test on your inner arm first if it's a new oil for you.

Cucumber Melon Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cucumber melon flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the cucumber melon flavor oil and stir until blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A cool, fresh scent that doesn't skew as sweet as the other fruit flavor oils — nice for a 'spa day' gift set.
- This base is interchangeable with any other flavor oil at the same drop count if you want to riff on it.

Berry Stain Tint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6.5 g
Sweet almond oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade red iron oxide powder	a pinch, about 0.08 g
Berry flavor oil (food-grade)	4-5 drops

Method

- 1 Put the iron oxide powder in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and mash with the back of a spoon until smooth, about a minute.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the almond oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and berry flavor oil, stirring again.
- 4 Let sit 10 minutes, strain through a fine mesh if any grit settles, then fill clean lip oil tubes.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This uses more iron oxide than the sheer tints for a deeper, stained-lip look — still a wash of color, not opaque coverage.

- Shake before each use since pigment can settle to the bottom of the tube over time.

Apricot Kernel Rose Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Apricot kernel oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Rose geranium essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the apricot kernel oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the rose geranium essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Apricot kernel oil is light and fast-absorbing, similar to almond oil but slightly thinner.
- Rose geranium smells closer to true rose than most essential oils and costs less than rose otto.

Before you make this

Rose geranium essential oil is mild for most people, but it's still concentrated. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips.

S'mores Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	5 g
Refined cocoa butter, melted	2 g
Fractionated coconut oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Toasted marshmallow flavor oil (food-grade)	4-5 drops

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter in a small cup set in warm water for 1-2 minutes.
- 2 Stir in the castor oil and fractionated coconut oil.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and marshmallow flavor oil, stirring well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes right away, before the cocoa butter starts to set.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This pairs chocolate (cocoa butter) with toasted marshmallow for a campfire-dessert scent, no graham needed.
- A fun option for a fall or camping-themed gift set.

Sunflower Chamomile Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
High-oleic sunflower oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Roman chamomile essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the sunflower oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the chamomile essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- High-oleic sunflower oil is lighter and more stable than regular sunflower oil, which helps this last its full shelf life.
- Chamomile is one of the calmest-smelling essential oils; a good one for sensitive-skin gift sets alongside the patch test note.

Before you make this

Chamomile essential oil is gentle for most people, but it's still concentrated, and rarely some people with ragweed allergies react to it. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips.

Lime Mojito Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Lime essential oil (cold-pressed)	1 drop
Spearmint essential oil	1 drop

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the lime and spearmint essential oils and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Cold-pressed lime is phototoxic like other citrus-peel oils — steam-distilled lime is a gentler substitute if you'd rather skip the sun caution.
- Spearmint is milder than peppermint, so this stays refreshing without a strong tingle.

Before you make this

This recipe uses cold-pressed lime, which can make skin more sensitive to sunlight. The amount here is small and going on lips rather than a large skin area, so the risk is low — but avoid sun exposure on treated lips for a few hours after applying, and patch test first if it's a new oil for you.

Pumpkin Spice Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Sweet almond oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Pumpkin spice flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and almond oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the pumpkin spice flavor oil and stir until blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Using a pre-blended food-grade flavor oil here avoids the overdose risk of stacking cinnamon and clove essential oils.
- A seasonal best-seller for fall markets and gift boxes.

Tea Tree Cooling Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Jojoba oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Tea tree essential oil	1 drop
Peppermint essential oil	1 drop

Method

- 1 Combine the jojoba oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the tea tree and peppermint essential oils and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Tea tree has a sharp, medicinal smell on its own — pairing it with a touch of peppermint makes it more pleasant without losing the cooling effect.

- Marketed as an after-sun or dry-cracked-lip option, not a treatment claim — avoid saying it 'heals' anything.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Coconut Cream Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	7 g
Castor oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Coconut flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the coconut flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Fractionated coconut oil doesn't smell like coconut, so the flavor oil does all the work here — a straightforward, crowd-pleasing scent.
- Pairs naturally with the Watermelon Fizz or Pineapple-Coconut recipes for a tropical gift set.

Eucalyptus Mint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Eucalyptus essential oil	1 drop
Peppermint essential oil	1 drop

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the eucalyptus and peppermint essential oils and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- This combination is intensely fresh — great for a winter 'clear the senses' product, but start with just the amounts given.
- Not recommended as a base to add more mint to; both oils here are already strong.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Golden Honey Tint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	7 g
Sweet almond oil	1.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade yellow iron oxide powder	a scant pinch, about 0.03 g
Honey flavor oil (food-grade)	3-4 drops

Method

- 1 Put the iron oxide powder in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and stir until fully smooth, about a minute.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the almond oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and honey flavor oil, stirring again.
- 4 Let sit 10 minutes, strain through a fine mesh if needed, then fill clean lip oil tubes.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Yellow iron oxide alone gives a warm golden cast rather than a pink or red tint — a nice neutral option for warmer skin tones.

- Shake before each use since pigment can settle over time.

Peach Bellini Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Peach flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the peach flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A soft, not-too-sweet fruit scent that tests well for both teens and adults in gift sets.
- Works nicely as the 'fourth flavor' alongside strawberry, watermelon and cucumber melon in a sampler pack.

Vanilla Lavender Lip Balm

Active time	10 min active, 2 min melt time
Batch size	about 1 oz (28 g), fills about 6 standard lip balm tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	11 g (0.4 oz)
Shea butter	5 g (0.18 oz)
Beeswax pellets	8 g (0.3 oz)
Vitamin E oil	1 g (about 20 drops)
Vanilla flavor oil (food-grade)	4 drops
Lavender essential oil	3 drops

Method

- 1 Set up a double boiler and melt the beeswax and shea butter together, stirring until liquid (3-5 min).
- 2 Remove from heat and stir in the almond oil.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil, vanilla flavor oil and lavender essential oil, stirring well.
- 4 Pour into empty lip balm tubes or small tins right away, before it sets.
- 5 Let cool undisturbed for 20-30 min before capping.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A solid balm holds up better than a liquid oil for travel or a gym bag — nothing to spill.
- If you want it firmer for a hot climate, add another 1-2 g of beeswax.

Before you make this

Lavender essential oil is generally well tolerated, but it's still concentrated. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips.

Espresso Cream Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	5 g
Fractionated coconut oil	4 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Coffee flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the castor oil and fractionated coconut oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the coffee flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A fun novelty scent for coffee lovers — pair with the Vanilla Bean or Honey Almond recipe for a 'latte' gift duo.
- Coffee flavor oils vary in strength by brand; start at 5 drops and taste-test before adding the sixth.

Rosemary Mint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Rosemary essential oil	1 drop
Spearmint essential oil	1 drop

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the rosemary and spearmint essential oils and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- An herbal-fresh scent rather than a sweet or fruity one — good for a unisex gift set.
- Spearmint keeps this gentler than a peppermint-forward blend would be.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Mango Tango Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Mango flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the mango flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- One of the more tropical, vacation-style scents — bundle it with Pineapple-Coconut and Watermelon Fizz as a summer trio.
- If the scent fades after a few weeks, that's normal for flavor oils; make smaller batches more often rather than one giant jar.

Black Tea Bergamot Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Grapeseed oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Bergamot essential oil (bergapten-free / FCF)	2 drops
Black tea flavor oil (food-grade, optional)	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the grapeseed oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the bergamot essential oil and the black tea flavor oil, if using, and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- As with the Bergamot Earl Grey recipe, use an FCF (bergapten-free) bergamot to cut most of the sun-sensitivity risk.
- The black tea flavor oil is optional — bergamot alone already reads as 'Earl Grey' to most noses.

Before you make this

Bergamot is a cold-pressed citrus oil and, unless you're using a bergapten-free (FCF) version, it's one of the more phototoxic essential oils available — it can cause real skin reactions in direct sun. Do a patch test on your inner arm first, and avoid sun or tanning beds on treated lips for several hours after use.

Bridal Sheer Shimmer Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Joboba oil	6 g
Castor oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade mica powder, pearl-white shade (skin-safe, labeled for cosmetic use)	a scant pinch, about 0.04 g

Method

- 1 Put the mica powder in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and stir until fully dispersed, with no clumps.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the jojoba oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and stir again.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes or a small glass bottle with a wand applicator, shaking before each use.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A barely-there shimmer designed to sit over a bride's own lip color rather than compete with it — no strong scent, by design.
- Make a few days ahead so it's ready to tuck into a bridesmaid gift box.

Sandalwood Vanilla Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Sweet almond oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Sandalwood essential oil	1 drop
Vanilla flavor oil (food-grade)	3 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the almond oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the sandalwood essential oil and vanilla flavor oil, stirring well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Sandalwood is mellow and woody; a single drop is enough to round out the sweetness of the vanilla without taking over.
- A good 'date night' option — warm and soft rather than bright or fruity.

Before you make this

Sandalwood essential oil is gentle for most people, but it's still concentrated. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips.

Grape Soda Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Grape flavor oil (food-grade)	5-6 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the grape flavor oil and stir until fully blended.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A nostalgic, candy-shop scent that tests especially well with teen and tween customers.
- Consider a light purple-tinted version using a very small pinch of cosmetic mica if you want the color to match.

Hazelnut Cocoa Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Hazelnut oil	5 g
Refined cocoa butter, melted	2 g
Castor oil	2.5 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)

Method

- 1 Melt the cocoa butter in a small cup set in warm water for 1-2 minutes.
- 2 Stir in the hazelnut oil and castor oil.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes right away, before the cocoa butter starts to set.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Hazelnut oil naturally smells a little nutty and toasty, which pairs with the cocoa butter for a chocolate-hazelnut spread effect with no added flavor oil.
- Skip this one for anyone with a tree nut allergy — hazelnut oil is cold-pressed from the nut itself.

Aloe Fresh Mint Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Fractionated coconut oil	6 g
Castor oil	3 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Spearmint essential oil	2 drops

Method

- 1 Combine the fractionated coconut oil and castor oil in a small cup.
- 2 Stir in the vitamin E oil.
- 3 Add the spearmint essential oil and stir well.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- Spearmint reads as softer and sweeter than peppermint, so this is a gentler everyday mint option.
- Despite the name, this recipe doesn't include liquid aloe — aloe is water-based and would need a preservative; it's named for the cool, fresh feel instead.

Before you make this

Mint essential oils are strong and can tingle more than expected on lips. Do a patch test on your inner arm and wait 24 hours before trying a new blend on your lips, and start with the lower end of the drop range.

Champagne New Year Lip Oil

Active time	5 min active, no cook time
Batch size	about 10 ml (0.3 fl oz), enough for 2-3 lip oil tubes

Ingredients

INGREDIENT	AMOUNT
Castor oil	6 g
Jojoba oil	2 g
Vitamin E oil	0.5 g (about 10 drops)
Cosmetic-grade gold mica powder (skin-safe, labeled for cosmetic use)	a scant pinch, about 0.04 g
Champagne or sparkling-grape flavor oil (food-grade)	3-4 drops

Method

- 1 Put the mica powder in a small cup with 1 g of the castor oil and stir until fully dispersed, with no clumps.
- 2 Add the rest of the castor oil and the jojoba oil, stirring well.
- 3 Add the vitamin E oil and flavor oil, stirring again.
- 4 Fill clean lip oil tubes with a dropper or small funnel, shaking before each use.

Shelf life

Up to 1 year at room temperature. No water in this recipe, so no preservative is needed — just keep the applicator or cap clean and dry.

Tips

- A celebratory, party-ready finish — the gold shimmer and sweet scent make this a popular New Year's Eve or birthday gift pick.

- Shake well before each use since the mica settles between applications.
