Pattern

Body (brown)

Work in a spiral without joining. Use a stitch marker to mark the first stitch of each round. The body starts at the bottom of the owl, so it stands on the first rounds.

Do not stuff. The wing is flattened when you sew it on.

Row 2	ch 1, turn, dec, dec (2 st)	(2)
Row 3	ch 1, turn, dec (1 st). Fasten off leaving a long tail for sewing	(1)

Finishing

1. Sew the belly to the lower front of the body, centered, with its long side running up and down.

2. Sew the two eye patches side by side on the upper front, with the edges just touching in the middle, about 1 in (2.5 cm) above the belly.
3. Embroider a closed sleepy eye on each patch: a small downward curve in dark yarn with three short lashes on the outer edge.
4. Sew the beak between the eye patches, pointing down, with its wide edge at the top.
5. Sew one ear tuft on each side at the very top of the head, base down, slanting a little outward.
6. Flatten each wing and sew its open end to the side of the body, with the rounded tip pointing down.
7. Weave in all the ends.

Tips

- Stuff the owl firmly. A soft owl leans over, while a firm one stands up on its base.
- Embroider the sleepy eyes before you sew on the patches if the patch is easier to hold flat.
- The beak and tufts are tiny. Sew them on with a double knot so they stay put.

Sizes are approximate and depend on your yarn and tension. The photo is an illustration of the finished piece. For your personal use.
